GEORGE H. STEWART, in his speech before the Christian Association at Indianapolis, said the most interesting sight he saw in London was not the Buckingham Palace, or the Great Exhibition, but two feeble Christian young men, with stammering tongues; but hearts filled with love, preaching to an audience of thieves and pickpockets and drunkards and fallen women, at midnight, in a part of London where they could not go in safety without two policemen.

WHEN Thackeray was buried, his friends, and among them the most noted of English authors, carried him to Kensal Green. There had been some estrangement between Dickens and Mark Lemon and as the coffin was lowered into its place, Dickens stood upon one side of the grave and Lemon on the other. As they raised their heads their eyes met, and instinctively putting out their hands, they clasped them in forgiveness, and their quarrel was buried in the grave of Thackeray.

A CHICAGO paper tells this story of Boston: A young lady of one of the most aristocratic families of the American Athens, went to her physician with a complaint that her ears were too large, and, under her instructions he carefully removed a delicate crescent of pink gristle about an inch and a half long from each protuberant. He sewed up the wound, and the maiden, previously all forlorn, was delighted to behold two "pretty ears," small, graceful and genteely tight to her head.

On having it examined at Lewistown, it proved to be a silver spoon, with the name of William Penn neatly engraved upon it, and bearing the crown mark of England.

A Terrible Crime.

There would seem to be but little doubt, says the Eastern Argus of yesterday, that a most shocking crime was perpetrated in connection with the sailboat disaster which occurred in Portland harbor on the 20th inst., by which three men lost their lives, one of the victims being Mr. J. H. W. Rogers, of this city. This gentleman was known to have on his person quite a large sum of money, a gold watch, valuable pin, etc. He was found floating on the surface soon after the accident by a boy in a wherry. Of course the lad could not raise him into his frail craft, but attached a rope to the body and towed it to the shore. None of the property was found upon the person, and the boy avers that when he first discovered him he showed signs of life. It appears that a schooner in the vicinity hove to and a boat containing two men put off; they reached the drowning man, partially raised and sustained him for some little time and then dropped him backed into the water, the boat returning to the schooner, which immediately sailed away. This transaction was not only witnessed by the boy in the wherry, but by parties in a boat not far away. From these premises the unavoidable deduction is that Mr Rogers was picked up in a half drowned condition, robbed and thrust back to die. The Argus further states that the affair is being thoroughly investigated and that officers are upon the track of the vessel, which is known. If such a terrible tragedy was enacted, the fiends should be brought to speedy and condign punishment.

THE latest foreign mails bring the debate in Parliament, on the motion of Mr. Buxton, that an address be presented to the Queen, praying her to invite the President of the United States to concur with Her Majesty in appointing Commissioners to revise the authorized version of the Bible. Mr. Buxton, in his address, expressed the opinion that the work of revision should be of an international character, and that the assistance of scholars in Europe and the United States should be obtained, and that for the translation of the Old Testament, the aid of the Jewish scholars, who were the greatest living masters of the Hebrew language, should be invited. Mr. Gladstone, in reply, stated that the revision of the Scriptures would be most safely, most satisfactorily, and most effectually performed by persons who cannot pretend to have any public and civil authority. He also expressed the opinion that though President Grant and Secretary Fish would receive with the utmost politness any representation the British Government might make, yet such an invitation would carry the President into a sphere from which he is excluded almost by the very letter, certainly by the spirit of the United States Constitution.

A BRUTAL murder has been committed in Dublin, apparently with great deliberation. An unfortunate girl, Margaret Murphy, was found lying dead in a room which she had occupied, her head having been severed from her body. The appearance of the room was in keeping with the wretchedness of the house and locality. Not a vestige of furniture was in the apartment, and the only approach to anything like a bed was a heap of straw in the opposite corner to where the body lay. Another girl had been murdered by a jealous lover in the county of Tyrone. The head was severed from the body, and found one hundred and fifty yards away.

> You say the point is stingless—why then write
> To let the world know that the shaft went home?

After all, Professor Smith will be puzzled to answer the question; his unfortunate letter having disarmed his friends, who might have fought out the battle for him, and put weapons into the hands of enemies who are only too happy to use them.

THE strike of the iron founders continues in Paris. The masters were under the idea that they would be able to get their castings done in other cities of the Empire, and also in Belgium. English workmen, members of the trade unions, have, it is said, voted the sum of £1,000 to sustain the strikes in France, and the greater portion of the money will be handed to the founders. The German working societies also intend coming forward with subscriptions. The master founders in Paris have made several attempts to induce their workmen to return on the old terms, but they have met with no success, though the men have been out for three months.

XLIST CONGRESS.

(SECOND SESSION.)

SENATE: The Tax-Tariff Bill Still Under Consideration. HOUSE: Amendments to Indian Appropriations Non-Concurred In—The Bill to Fund and Consolidate the National Debt Taken Up and Considered.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

WASHINGTON, June 30, 1870.

SENATE.

The House amendments to the Senate bill to prevent the extermination of fur bearing animals in Alaska was concurred in.

Mr. SUMNER, from the Committee on Foreign Relations, reported a joint resolution authorizing the exploration and survey of the Tehauntepec and Nicaragua route for a ship canal between the Atlantic and Pacific Oceans.

The same Committee were discharged from the further consideration of the joint resolution for a ship canal survey across the Isthmus of Darien and various memorials on the subject, all of which were indefinitely postponed.

Mr. SCOTT, from the Committee of Conference on a joint resolution for the relief of the officers of the navy, made a report, which was concurred in.

Mr. THAYER introduced a bill to amend the homestead act. It allows soldiers, sailors, and marines who served one year in the war of the rebellion to receive patents for homesteads upon two years' residence.

Mr. FOWLER introduced a bill authorizing the adjudication by the United States courts of Mexican land claims not passed upon by Land Commission of 1851.

Mr. POMEROY introduced a bill authorizing the Alabama and Chattanooga Railroad, the Vicksburg and Meridan Railroad, and North Louisiana and Texas Railroads to consolidate for the purpose of forming a junction with the Texas Pacific road at Marshall, and granting said roads twenty sections of land per mile.

At one o'clock Senate went into executive session.

At 2:10 the doors were reopened and the Senate proceeded with the tax-tariff bill, the question being on amendments to the paragraph relating to Bessemer steel, to reduce the duty on steel railway bars one cent per pound, and also to strike out the entire paragraph.

Mr. EDMUNDS was in favor of giving the interest sufficient protection to stimulate it to compete with British manufactures.

Mr. CAMERON opposed the reduction, remarking that so far not one dollar had been realized upon steel manufactured in this country.

Mr. SCOTT, in correction of the statement that the least royalty paid for the manufacture of Bessemer steel rails was five dollars in gold per ton, stated upon authority of Mr. Morrell, one of the trustees of the patent process, that since February last the royalty had been reduced to one dollar and fifty cents per ton.

Mr. DAVIS favored the reduction of the duty.

Mr. Pomeroy's amendment to reduce the duty on steel railway bars from one and one-half to one per cent. per pound was agreed to—28 to 22.

Mr. WILSON moved to make the duty one cent and a quarter. Agreed to—31 to 21.

The rate on all railway bars made in part of steel was then reduced from one and one-fourth to one cent per pound.

Amendments to impose twenty per cent. duty on slates for roofing was rejected—12 to 27.

Mr. MORRILL (Vermont) moved to insert "on sword blades thirty-five cent. ad valorem; on swords, forty-five per cent. ad valorem; on watch jewels ten per cent. ad valorem." Agreed to.

Mr. WARNER offered amendments allowing machinery manufactured expressly for spinning cotton in yarn to be imported free for one year. Rejected—only twelve Senators voting in the affirmative.

Mr. SUMNER moved to place on the free list "books in foreign or dead languages of which no editions are printed in the United States;" also "books with illustrations relating to science and arts." Rejected.

Mr. SCHURZ offered an amendment that paintings and works of art, the property of American artists, now held for payment of duty in any custom house shall be surrendered without duty on proof of property by the owner. Adopted.

The Senate took a recess.

Evening Session—The Conference Committee's report on the bill to amend the act granting the right of way to ditch and canal owners over public lands was concurred in.

The tax bill was then prroceeded with.

Mr. SCHURZ, in behalf of Mr. Trumbull, who was absent, offered an amendment to the bill allowing transportation of imported goods in bulk from port of entry to port of delivery, dues to be paid at the latter places, the operations of the provision to be confined to cities of not less than 150,000 inhabitants and to be under regulations prescribed by the Secretary of the Treasury.

Mr. SHERMAN said the proposition had been demanded by the Chambers of Commerce of nearly all the interior cities. The present system was substantially a monopoly to the city of New York, as all the goods had to be opened and examined there, and special favor was given to direct importation to New York. The bill had been carefully prepared by the Finance Committee and Treasury Department, and contained every guard and check against fraud that could possibly be devised. He believed it would increase the revenue and encourage direct trade between interior cities and European countries.

Mr. CONKLING denied any complicated or doubtful scheme touching the Custom House regulations could be appended to a tax bill. He thought the bill to prohibit the enforcement of Chinese coolie contracts would be equally as germane, and he therefore offered that bill as a further amendment.

After discussion both amendments were withdrawn.

Mr. SCOTT offered a section providing for a new executive department entitled "Department of Revenue," but finding it would occasion protracted discussion withdrew it.

Mr. COLE moved to increase the tax on whisky to one dollar.

Mr. THURMAN stated he had heard the "Ring" had bought up all the whisky in the country with the expectation of making fortunes by the increase of the tax.

The amendment was rejected—12 to 31.

On motion of Mr. PATTERSON, the free importation of household furniture for individual use was allowed.

On motion of Mr. FENTON, the duty on oats was reduced to five cents per bushel.

Mr. HAMILTON, Md., for Mr. Bayard, offered a new section imposing a tax of five per cent. on goverment bonds. Yeas 11, nays 25.

No quorum voting, the Senate adjourned.

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES.

Mr. UPSON introduced a bill to change the times of holding Circuit and District Courts of the United States in the Northern District of Ohio.

The House resumed the consideration of Senate amendments to the Indian Appropriation bill.

The report of the Committee on Appropriations, recommending concurrence in some and non-concurrence in others, was agreed to as a whole, except where special votes were called for.

Mr. FERRY asked a separate vote on an amendment, in which the Committee recommended non-concurrence, appropriating $36,753 for payment to Indians in Michigan for the difference between coin and currency paid to them in 1863-4 under treaty stipulations, with five per cent. interest added thereto. He argued in favor of the amendment.

Mr. SARGENT opposed the amendment as establishing a most dangerous and costly precedent, which would apply to all soldiers, sailors and pensioners and other creditors of the Government.

On a count by the tellers there were but twenty-one yeas, and no further count was asked and the amendment was non-concurred in.

Mr. BECK asked for a separate vote on amendments, in which the Committee on Appropriations recommended non-concurrence, making large appropriations under Indian treaties of 1867 and 1868, which treaties the Fortieth Congress had refused to ratify. He said there were fifteen or twenty amendments, aggregating $1,500,000, and he wished to have a vote of the House upon them as an instruction to the Committee of Conference, to which the bill would be referred. These appropriations, if made, would run thirty years, and cost the Government between fifty and sixty millions.

Mr. PAINE hoped the recommendation of the Committee on Appropriations would be adhered to, and expressed disapproval of the entire system of Indian treaties.

The amendments were all non-concurred in.

Mr. AXTELL asked a separate vote on an amendment increasing the appropriations for the incidental expenses of the Indian service in California, from $7,500,000 to $10,000,000. He opposed the amendment as intended for the removal of peaceful and industrious civilized Mission Indians, who are citizens and voters, to a reservation in San Diego county. He represented the movement as a speculative one to secure the farms of those Mission Indians.

Mr. SARGENT endorsed the remarks of his colleague.

The Senate amendment was non-concurred in.

Mr. DEGENER asked a separate vote on the amendment, in which the Committee on Appropriations recommended concurrence, forbidding deductions from Indian annuities on account of depredations. He argued against the amendment, taking the ground that the principle thus abrogated was the correct and common sense way of dealing with Indian depredations.

Mr. WILKINSON argued in the same direction.

Mr. SARGENT argued in support of the amendment, contending the existence of such a system stimulated the getting up of claims for Indian depredations, and illustrating by citing the case of a Texas "Greaser," who, not finding a good market for cattle, drove them through the Indian country, tempting the Indians to drive them off, and then came to Washington and made claim before the Indian Department.

Mr. PAINE argued in support of the Senate amendment so as to avoid allowance of unjust claims.

The amendment was concurred in.

A committee of conference was ordered on the disagreeing votes.

The House, as business of the morning hour, proceeded with the consideration of reports from the Committee of Commerce.

Mr. O'NEILL reported a bill making Jersey City a port of entry. Passed.

Mr. DIXON reported a bill reciting the project of building a ship canal across Cape Cod at an expense of seven million dollars, and pledging the faith of the Government to construct a suitable breakwater and harbor of refuge at the eastern entrance, the expense not to exceed two millions.

Objection being made by Mr. BENJAMIN, that the bill made an appropriation, it was referred to the Committee of the Whole.

Mr. SAWYER reported back the Senate bill to constitute Omaha a port of delivery. Passed.

Also, a substitute for the Senate bill for the improvement of water communication between the Mississippi River and Lake Michigan, by way of the Wisconsin and Fox Rivers. The substitute was agreed to and the bill passed.

Mr. CONGER reported a bill granting the Evansville & Southern Illinois Railroad Company the right to build a bridge across the Big Wabash River.

Also, a bill to amend the act authorizing the construction of a bridge across the Missouri River on the military reservation at Ft. Leavenworth, Kansas.

Mr. FINKELNBERG offered an amendment requiring the spans of the draw, if it be a draw bridge, to be not less than two hundred feet in the clear on each side of the central pivot.

The amendment was agreed to and the bill passed.

Also, a bill to amend the act of July 18th, 1868, further to prevent smuggling, relating to ship stores purchased at Canadian ports. Passed.

Mr. FINKELNBERG reported a bill creating a port of delivery at Du Luth, Minn.

The morning hour expired and the bill went over.

Mr. BENJAMIN, from the Conference Committee on the bill defining the duties of pension agents made a report. He explained that as to fees of pension and claim agents they were fixed in this report at ten dollars, except where written agreements are made and filed at the Department, in which case the maximum fee shall be twenty-five dollars.

Mr. LAWRENCE opposed the report as allowing too large fees, but it was agreed to.

Mr. BUTLER, from Committee on Elections, reported in the Kentucky election case that Rice, sitting member, was disqualified under the fourteenth amendment, that the Governor be notified of the vacancy, and that Zeigler, contestant, be allowed expenses of the contest.

Mr. BURR presented the views of the minority, declaring Rice justly entitled to a seat.

The resolutions will be called up on Friday of next week.

On motion of Mr. TAFFE, the Senate bill for the relief of pre-emption settlers of Nebraska was taken from the Speaker's table and passed.

The House at 2:15, proceeded to the consideration of the bill for the refunding and consolidation of the national debt.

On motion of Mr. SCHENCK, a verbal amendment was made striking out at the end of section four the words "at any time before the end of notice provided for in second section." He expressed the opinion that the Government should offer a four per cent. loan at par.

Mr. BLAIR moved to amend the first section by inserting the words "the amount of interest specified in each coupon shall be expressed in dollars, and the equivalent thereof in English sterling currency and in francs."

Mr. DAVIS, of New York, moved to amend the amendment by adding a proviso that the Secretary of the Treasury shall have power, in his discretion, to make the interest or coupons on part of the bonds, not exceeding $500,000,000, payable in any foreign country he may deem advisable. [Murmurs of disapproval.]

Mr. BLAIR advocated his proposition, showing the advantage to accrue from it in inducing foreign investment.

Mr. WOOD the opposed bill, because he saw in it danger of disturbing injuriously business interests and stability of trade, without effecting negotiation at the proposed rate, and for other reasons.

Mr. BUTLER (Mass.) opposed Mr. Blair's amendment. He did not desire bonds to be held abroad, or to offer inducements for such thing.

Mr. BROOKS (N. Y.) advocated the bill in the belief that the loan could be effected at a reduced rate.

Mr. KELLY opposed Mr. Blair's amendment as unbecoming a great nation.

Mr. JUDD argued that the amendment was unnecessary, as the bondholders purchased through brokers thoroughly familiar with the American dollar.

Mr. SCHENCK took the same ground and remarked that the general rate of interest paid by the people would fall when the Government reduced its rate.

Mr. COBURN also advocated Mr. Blair's amendment, preferring the money be obtained in Europe, that American people may use their own money in building mills, bridges, roads and railroads.

Mr. Blair's and Mr. Davis' amendments were rejected.

Mr. MAYHEW offered an amendment to strike from the first section the clause exempting bonds and coupons from all taxation, but subsequently withdrew it.

Mr. WOODWARD, however, renewed it, arguing this Congress could not restrain any future Congress from the exercise of that power.

Mr. BINGHAM opposed the amendment and denied the correctness of the legal position of Mr. Woodward.

Mr. HOLMAN sustained and Mr. BROOKS and Mr. BUTLER opposed the amendment, the latter claiming that while the 5-20 bonds were liable to Federal taxation, Congress could exempt four per cent. bonds from all taxation.

The amendment was rejected by a large majority, the yeas and nays being refused.

Mr. INGERSOLL moved to make the bonds and coupons payable in lawful money instead of coin, which was rejected.

Mr. MARSHALL moved the bonds be redeemable after twenty years instead of thirty. Rejected.

Mr. COBURN moved to make the bonds fifty year bonds. Rejected.

Mr. VAN TRUMP moved to make them one thousand year bonds. Rejected.

Mr. HOLMAN moved to prohibit the employment of agents. Rejected.

The second section was then read.

Mr. WOOD offered an amendment prohibiting the payment of any commission on brokerage.

Mr. SCHENCK said there was nothing in the bill authorizing the payment of any brokerage.

Mr. RANDALL supported and Mr. ALLISON opposed the amendment, which was rejected—56 to 104.

The following Committees of Conference were announced:

On the Indian Appropriation bill: Messrs. Sargent, Beck and Clarke, of Kansas.

On National Currency bill: Messrs. Judd, Packer and Knott.

Adjourned.

San Domingo Treaty Rejected—Whiskey and Tobacco Tax—Grand Army Reunion—Revenue Receipts.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

WASHINGTON, D. C., June 30, 1870.

SAN DOMINGO TREATY.

On going into Executive session this afternoon the Senate resumed the consideration of the San Domingo treaty. Mr. Morrill, of Vermont, concluded his speech against ratification, when the Senate proceeded to vote on the amendments proposed by the President of the United States, some of which were adopted. A vote was then taken on the ratification of the treaty and resulted, 28 yeas against 28 nays. A two-thirds vote being required the treaty was rejected. A number of Senators were paired and others absent. The opponents of the measure say they could have rejected it without the aid of the Democratic vote.

It is said the rejection of the San Domingo treaty does not dispose of the Protocol for the lease of Samana, although if the treaty had been ratified the Samana question would have been absorbed by it. The project of annexing Dominica by a joint resolution does not seem to be regarded with sufficient favor to secure a majority in the House.

WHISKEY AND TOBACCO BILL.

The Committee on Ways and Means did not report to-day the bill providing for the collection of taxes on whiskey and tobacco, but will probably do so to-morrow. While the bill will not propose any change in existing rates of taxation on those articles, the members of the Committee will advocate an increase of the tax on whiskey.

GRAND ARMY REUNION.

Fresh Inquiry Into Capt. Eyre's Case Refused—Revision of the Scriptures by the Protestant Council—British Opposition to the Anglo-French Commercial Treaty—The Educational Question in the English House of Commons—Contradictory Reports Concerning the Infallibility Dogma—Great Cotton Fraud at Bombay.

GREAT BRITAIN.

LONDON, June 30.—Captain Eyre, of the Peninsular and Oriental Steamship Company, has written to the Board of Trade of London, asking that a fresh inquiry be instituted into the causes of the disaster to the United States corvette Onedia, which collided with his steamer, the Bombay, in the Bay of Yokohama. The Board of Trade refused to entertain his proposition.

An English Church paper, The Rock, states that the question of a revision of the Scriptures will be brought before the coming Protestant Council by an eminent clergyman.

Wisetelly, the artist, was drowned to-day at Margate.

A large and harmonious meeting was held in this city by the opponents of the Anglo-French commercial treaty. Joshua Fidden, conservative member of the House of Commons for York West Riding, delivered a violent speech against the treaty. Himself a cotton manufacturer and merchant of Manchester, he was able to show the unfavorable effect of the treaty on the cotton trade of Great Britain. After speeches by other persons, a resolution was unanimously adopted denouncing the treaty as the cause of industrial prostration, and calling the Ministers to account for denying an investigation of the subject.

In the Commons Mr. Otway, Under Secretary of Foreign Department, declined to say at present whether the government intended to ratify the new China treaty. Mr. Monsell, Under Secretary of Colonial Department, said it was impossible to tell when the Lords' bill altering the representative system of British Columbia would reach the Commons. The House went into Committee on the education bill. There was a large attendance of both members and spectators. Sir Stafford Northcote offered an amendment expunging the clause prohibiting the teaching of religious sentiments. He supported the amendment in a speech, declaring the sentiment of the country hostile to such provision. Mr. Foster opposed the amendment as letting in an endless sectarian controversy. Mr. Hope favored the amendment and was followed by Mr. Dixon in opposition. Mr. Gladstone defended the clause as it stood as representing the will of the country. As the Bible could be read and expounded without regard to any particular doctrine, the plan placed the smallest possible restraint on religious teaching. Mr. Disareli said the clause would not exclude sectarian contention, as designed. He favored the election of the board by rate payers. After further debate the Committee divided with the following result: For the amendment, 96; against 252. Sir J. Parkington proposed the reading of the Bible form part of the daily exercises. Messrs. Foster and Hardy opposed it and the amendment was lost—81 to 250. Jacob Bright offered an amendment that teaching shall not be directed against the tenets of any sect. Mr. Gladstone thought the idea incapable of enforcement. The amendment was rejected by 121 majority. Adjourned.

LONDONDERRY, June 30.—At a large meeting last evening the government bill regarding public processions was strongly condemned.

ROME.

ROME, June 29.—Notwithstanding the various statements about the delay in the issue of the proclamation of the dogma of infallibility, it was confidently expected, in high ecclesiastical circles, that this important church paper would be published to-day. This belief was based upon the sentiments expressed at the Consistory held by the Pope on Monday last.

There was a magnificent display yesterday in honor of St. Peter. Processions and reviews lasted all day, with fire works at night.

LONDON, June 30.—Dispatches from Rome, dated the 29th, announce that the report of the immediate vote in the Ecumenical Council on the infallibility dogma, is untrue. The discussion of the project continues. It is reported the Pope has ordered the Cardinals to oppose any proposition to set aside the discussion. A committee of Bishops of all nations, including the Archbishops of San Francisco, Mexico, Baltimore, Quito and other Americans have addressed a request to the faithful for subscriptions for the Catholic Church at Constantinople which suffered so terribly in the recent conflagration.

CUBA.

HAVANA, June 30.—The Diario states the insurgent Bembetta, with six hundred cavalry, invaded the jurisdiction of Santa Espiritus for the purpose of inciting the inhabitants of western departments to rebel against the Spanish authorities. Finding the houses deserted and the people flying from the insurgents, his forces became demoralized. The cholera also broke out and Bembetta was compelled to return to Puerto Principe regions. Columns of Spanish troops were sent against Bembetta from differant points and are now pursuing him.

The Spanish gunboat Crillo captured the English wrecking sloop John Grey, from Nassru. The captain and crew were negroes and the sloop without papers.

—Reports of drought and grasshoppers in Kansas are untrue. There has been plenty of rain and no grasshoppers. The crops throughout the state are splendid. The wheat is generally harvested, of full average and the quality exceeds that of any previous year. The grazing ranges near Obeleria and Salina are covered with over fifty thousand Texas cattle that have arrived this season, and over that number are on the way up. The Kansas Pacific Railroad has commenced moving these cattle east by fast stock trains. Track laying is being vigorously pushed on the above road, and is now laid thirty-five miles west of Kit Carson, and the road will be completed to Denver by September first.

—The President has not yet abandoned the idea of securing the ratification of the San Domingo treaty. It is well known that the time for the exchange of the ratification expires on Friday, July 8, but he stated Wednesday to a Senator, that if there was no chance of considering it before that date without antagonising it with other important public business, he had assurance that the time could and would be extended as long as necessary, in order to secure the ratification. In fact, he had taken the necessary steps to that end.

WESTMINSTER COLLEGE.

President Browne's Baccalaureate Address—Address of Rev. R. H. Pollock, &c.

The closing exercises of this institution commenced on Sabbath, June 26th, and are in progress. The weather being extremely warm foreboded rather a sultry time, but as the exercises were in the evening things passed off quite pleasantly.

On Saturday, the 25th inst., Wilmington was gladdened by the return of the graduating class. The members having passed a creditable examination on the studies embraced in the College course, during the last of May, had returned to their respective homes to enjoy the pleasures of friends and prepare their commencement performances.

On Sabbath evening, at seven o'clock, the exercises were opened with the baccalaureat sermon, delivered to the graduating class by Rev. Robt. Andley Browne, D.D., President of the institution. He was listened to by a large and interested audience. The subject was happily conceived for the occasion. After a voluntary, consisting of the 100th Psalm, and a prayer by Rev. T. S. Kendall, of Oregon, the exercises proceeded with President Browne's Baccalaureate address.

ABSTRACT OF PRESIDENT BROWNE'S BACCALAUREATE.

Job 34:32, "What I see not teach Thou me."

The limits of human knowledge and the cure of human ignorance are themes suited to the occasion of the graduation of a class of young gentlemen and ladies with baccalaureate honors. You have completed the college curriculum and thus made a fair beginning of your education. If you have improved well the years spent within these walls you have some conception how much remains to be learned; how little after all can be learned by man and it has taught you humility. The full ear bends to the earth; the empty head holds itself erect. Let me then ask you to study of the prayer of Elihu: "What I see not teach Thou me."

Let us speak first of the limit of human knowledge.

1. Human knowledge is limited by the constitution of things. There are spheres of fact and thought so different from our own that we cannot comprehend them; and if we did, could not communicate our knowledge to others. Paul was caught up to Paradise. There he heard things unlawful to utter—that is so different from the present laws of our thought and speech that though he had witnessed them in exalted or bodily presence, which he knew not, yet he was powerless to describe them. We have reason to believe that, even were the facts and principles presented to us, there are vast fields of knowledge for the proper conception of which we have as yet no adequate powers. Yet the vanity of the human mind too often has led men to wander utterly lost, though unconscious of the fact, into tracts of knowledge which it is not competent to man to explore.

2. The spiritual presents limit to our investigations. Man does not even know himself. Yet an absurd philosophy undertakes to dictate laws to the attributes and operations of other spirits. Man, who cannot explain how even the grass grows beneath his feet dictates, a priori, regarding the laws of the being of God himself.

3. The material world presents vast tracts unknown to man. The philosopher, with his microscope, looks into a drop of water and finds it a peopled globe. He turns his telescope and sweeps the expanse of space. New worlds look out upon him from the distant depths. He increases the power of his glass and yet other worlds come within the range of his vision. He is lost in amazement as he inquires what may possibly lie farther back, or how far beyond the attained limits of human knowledge are even the borders of the material universe.

It is so in all the departments of physical science. The changing boundaries of human knowledge are continually reminding us how far the unknown transcends the known even in those sciences easiest of human acquisition.

I know that the subtle intellect of man has made wonderfull discoveries in the fields of science. Newton aplied the laws of gravitation and constructed the true system of the starry universe. Hervey discovered the circulation of the blood. Fulton applied steam to the purposes of our modern civilization. Franklin brought the lighting down from heaven and identified with electric fluid, and Morse taught it human language. Yet it may humble the pride of sciolism to remember that only two and one-half centuries have elapsed since Hervey made his great discovery, though the blood of human veins has flowed almost 6,000 years. It is similar with these other discoveries and inventions. Their recency humbles the vanity of man. It reminds us of the vastness of the system of which knowing so much we yet comparatively know so little.

Let us then in the second place consider the cure of human ignorance.

Preliminary to this it is to be noted that sight is contradistinguished from faith. Sight by metonomy means the knowledge gained by sight; faith the knowlege gained by faith or belief in the teaching of others. In a wide sense, sight is applied to the aggregate knowledge of our race; faith to that which we receive by belief in the teaching of God. To this distinction the text applies—"What I see not, teach Thou me."

Yet God can aid the student even in secular study. So can He aid all minds by His spirit. Of the husbandman it is said, "His God doth instruct him to discretion and doth teach him." Is. 28, 26. And God gave the spirit of invention to Bezaleel, Ex. 30.2. It is wise to recognize and invoke the Divine aid in all departments of intellectual labor. It is true in all, as Luther testified—"Bene precasse, bene studuisse."

But beyond all is needed at this point where human wisdom utterly fails, divine revelation, accompanied by the aids of the divine spirit to enable us to comprehend and profit by its august teachings. Creation, Sin, Redemption and a Redeemer who is the Son of God and the Son of Man—our prophet and teacher as well as our priest and king—all these unknown wholly or partially, without revelation are unfolded to us in its pages, and God waits to bless the teachings of these to his faith who sincerely utters the prayer, "What I see not teach thou me."

The subject was then applied by the exhortation:

1st. Humbly to seek after yet more wisdom.

2d. To recognize the need of divine aid.

3d. Not to rest satisfied with mere secular knowledge, but seek that which makes wise unto salvation.

On Monday evening at the same hour the anniversary exercises of the Society of Inquiry took place in the cottage chapel, in the presence of a very respectable audience. The exercises were opened with prayer by Rev. T. S. Kendall, of Oregon. After which Rev. R. H. Pollock was introduced, who delivered an address, of which the following is a brief synopsis:

"The Relation of the Jews to the Evangelization of the World." This world is the theater for the display of divine grace and mercy in the world's redemption. This is in an important sense, the end of its existence. In the light of this truth the seemingly most discordant occurrences perfectly harmonize. To this end are all divine Providences. When Jehovah comes forth in the majesty of His power to "Shake terribly the earth and the nations," He comes "for the salvation of His people, for salvation with his annointed;" the grand result will be the universal reign of King Jesus; His reign over a willing and loving people. Language cannot be plainer than are the prophetic writings on this subject. All nations shall be blessed in Him, and all nations shall call Him blessed. The instrumentality chosen of God, by which this is to be accomplished is the Church. She is recognized as the co-worker with Jesus in building His spiritual house, in extending His Kingdom, till it shall fill the whole earth.

It is but natural for us to expect of Him as a wise master-builder, a revelation of His plans and specifications. This is necessary to the success and efficiency of the church in her work. The careful student of prophecy will find his expectations fully in this respect realized. All that is necessary to the highest efficiency of the church is given her. This subject in its full length and breadth embraces purposes of God concerning His ancient people, their relation to, and their part in the world's evangelization. The great difficulty which embarrasses the investigation of this subject is the disposition to spiritualize the plain literal language of prophecy. Promises made to the seed of Araham after the flesh are confounded with those made to his spiritual seed—till all propecy on this subject is little else than unmeaning confusion.

I. To clear the way for a right understanding of this subject, I observe that the literal seed of Abraham have been and will be a people distinct from the nations of the world. An early prophecy declared: "So this people shall dwell alone, and shall not be reckoned among the nations." This prophecy, frequently repeated, has been literally fulfilled. Though they have been scattered among the nations "as corn is sifted in a seive," there has been no melting away of this people; no absorption of them by the most powerful nations among which they have gone? Neither oppression on the one hand, nor civil privileges on the other, seems to have the least tendency to destroy their nationality.

II. The Jews preserved a distinct people, as sent, shall yet be converted unto Jesus Christ. They shall acknowledge Him as their Prince and Messiah. "Their seed shall be known among the Gentiles, and their offspring among the people. All that see them shall acknowledge them, that they are the seed which the Lord has blessed."

That the promises here and elsewhere in the prophets have reference to the Jews, is clear when read in the light of Paul's argument in the 11th chapter of Romans. He most carefully, throughout his reasoning, preserves the distinction between the Jews and Gentiles, both in their converted and unconverted state.

III. I enquire when shall these things be? A question more curious than profitable, if it has reference merely to the year in which it shall occur. It is vastly important, however, if we propose to inquire as to the time of their conversion in its relation to the time when the Gentiles shall be converted.

The point here discussed was the fact that after some success in the missionary cause of the church, the Jews shall be restored to the divine favor—exerting a great influence on the missionary work in the further progress among the Gentiles. For if the casting them away be the reconciling of the world, what shall the receiving of them be, but life from the dead.

IV. Converted to God these people shall be employed as the future missionaries; God will take of these and send them "to Tarshias Pell and Sud to Tubul and Iavan, to the isles afar off—that have not heard my fame nor seen my glory—they shall declare my glory among the Gentiles. In that day shall ten men out of all the languages of the nations take hold of the skirts of him that is a Jew saying, "We will go with you for we have heard that God is with you."

In the light of these prophecies, in which God reads His future purposes, we can better understand His remarkable and severe providences to them. In this fiery furnace He is not only punishing them for their rejection of Jesus, but He is also fitting them for His work.

As the Captain of our salvation was made perfect through suffering, so God often perfects his instruments for service by suffering. This people have certain national traits which have been more deeply fixed in their being by their trials and whatever is recognized as elements of success.

Among these were noticed—

1. Their zeal and enthusiasm.
2. Their persevering energy.
3. Their knowledge of almost all languages and dialects in the world. When that nation shall be counted, it will be as on Pentacostal day, when every man shall hear his own tongue and the wonderful works of God.

On Tuesday evening an audience consisting of the citizens of Wilmington, a large number of the Alumni of the Institution, quite a number of the visitors attending the closing exercises of the College, were highly entertained with select reading by W. M. Evans, of Pittsburgh, on behalf of the Adelphic and Philomaic Literary Societies. The Professor has read here at different times with eminent success, and his readings this evening, consisting principally of selections from Shakspeare and Dickens, were duly appreciated.

On Wednesday afternoon the examination of the competitors for the gold medal awarded by Col. J. B. Findiay, of Kittanning, to the person of the Senior class standing the best examination in philology, history and English literature, took place. Also a contest in the ladies department for a prize awarded by James McCandless, Esq., of Pittsburgh, for the best essay. In the evening at 6 o'clock the business meeting of the Alumni took place, and at 7:30 an address was delivered by Rev. D. S. Littell, of Alumni Association.

On Thursday the commencement exercises will take place in a fine grove near the village, opening at 10 o'clock A. M. The class, consisting of gentlemen and ladies, numbers twenty-five, from whom addresses and essays are expected, and if the weather is fine will yield a pleasant and interesting entertainment. These exercises close the eighteenth year of the history of the institution, and we are happy to say it has been one of prosperity, and, we trust, advantage to the cause of education. The number of students in attendance during the year was two hundred and forty-six, the greater number of whom were in the higher classes. A vacation of two months now commences, and we hope it may be one of pleasure and relaxation to the students, and that they may return invigorated for the duties of the ensuing year. X.

THE DAILY GAZETTE.

OFFICIAL PAPER
Of Pittsburgh, Allegheny City and Allegheny County.

GAZETTE BUILDING:
Corner of Sixth Avenue and Smithfield Street.

FRIDAY, JULY 1, 1870.

BONDS at Frankfort 96¼.

PETROLEUM at Antwerp 53f.

GOLD closed in New York on yesterday at 111⅞.

A POLITICAL INTELLIGENCE office has been opened by the Bolters on the second floor of a building on Smithfield street. All office seekers who wish to be elected by 850 votes, and all who aspire to be delegates to the Bolters' Convention, should make application at once. No delegates will be admitted to the Convention unless they have been approved by the Intelligence Committee. Registry fee twenty-five cents. One hundred dollars must be paid on the approval by the delegates as soon as approved, and one thousand dollars by the office seeker, as soon as elected to office.

THE BOLTERS.

So far, not one of the men who bolted the Republican nomination for State Senator last winter, at Harrisburg, has been renominated. The latest victims are Bowman and McCreery, of Erie. They went in last year by a heavy vote and this year they go out almost unanimously. Ames, of Crawford, and Leslie, of Butler county, are in the same box, and Geo. K. Anderson, the chief of the gang, who furnished the money as well as the brains for it, has been shelved by five hundred nominal majority, and by over one thousand majority if there had been no cheating in Titusville. Honesty is the best policy after all. Cheating never prospers, to quote another proverb; and as these facts are their own best comments, we may close with that other adage which says, a short horse is soon curried.

THE RING!!—DARK WORK!!!

The bolters' ring is busily engaged in its dark and dishonorable work. In the public call, which it issued a few days since, the Republicans of Allegheny county were invited to meet in their respective election districts on a day specified, "and discarding the professional office-hunter and the professional delegate, select two of their best citizens as delegates to a Convention to meet at the Court House in the city of Pittsburgh," for certain purposes.

But these miserable disorganizers have issued a private call, which differs materially and essentially from the words which we have quoted above. In order that we may not be charged with misrepresentation, and that our readers may see the dishonesty and duplicity of these men, we publish the private call in full. It is as follows:

INDEPENDENT REPUBLICAN HDQRS.,
129 Smithfield street, 2d Floor,
Near New City Hall.
PITTSBURGH, ———, 1870.

MR. ———,

Dear Sir: You are requested to confer with your neighbors, and make arrangements to have your Ward represented in the Independent Republican Convention. The "Call" which we mail you fully explains the object of the movement. Please give this matter your immediate attention, and report the names of the delegates selected to these Headquarters.

A. H. MILLER,
DAVID KIRK,
J. B. CAMPBELL,
JNO. A. CAROTHERS,
GEO. NEELD,
Committee on Organization.

According to the public "call," the dear people were invited to meet and select their own delegates. But this, it was found, would not accomplish the dark designs of the bolters. They knew what the honest Republicans in the several election districts would do, and therefore, distrustful of the people, take the matter, in a secret way, into their own hands. Delegates are to be selected privately, and their names to be reported to the Headquarters of the ring! Even their confidential friends in the several election districts are not to be trusted. They must first make their selections, and then submit them for approval to five men, not one of whom, of course, ever sought by log-rolling or otherwise to secure a nomination for any office! O purity! thy sacred name has been covered with deep and black disgrace!

The people must not select their own delegates. This will not be tolerated by the ring. Selections must be made privately, and then as privately reported to the above named persons for their approval. Was there ever such an insult offered to an intelligent people?

But this course is in perfect keeping with the boast made by the two dozen of bolters that organized a new party on last Monday, namely, that they carried twenty-five thousand Republican votes in their vest pockets.

Republicans, select your own delegates on the 27th of August next. You are at least as capable of making a judicious selection as the five gentlemen who have their headquarters on the second floor, and you have a better right to do it. Is it not time that we had reform? Lend your aid to it!

REFRESHING.

That was a pleasant June day meeting of Democratic editors which was held this week, at Altoona, and over which our friend, Col. Barr, of the Post, presided. It must have been refreshing, even if the mercury was up among the nineties, to have seen so many good and true men in council devising ways and means and plans and programmes for the delivery of the people from that odious "Radical domination" under which they have writhed and suffered (and yet managed to live prosperously and happy) during a full decade of years. These good patriots, like certain maidens we have read about in history, met together and laid down their jewels and trinkets for their country's welfare. They offered, on the altar of the best interests of their party, things which ordinary people hold dear, their individual judgments and opinions, for did they not resolve that "When new issues arise about which there is some doubt, or difference of opinion as to the course of the party, it shall be the duty of the President of this Association to call a meeting to consider the same." Who could ask a greater sacrifice? No more idividuality among Democratic editors, no more going t alone on fresh questions, no more independent thought, but all must meet together in infallible council, and get ideas served out to them wholesale and retail—not for the interests or welfare of the people, or of the government; but for the advancement of the Democratic party.

The editors were so pleased with the idea of referring all new issues when they shall arise to a council that they felt it would be well to declare together, just to serve as stock in trade to run on for a while.

1—That we denounce the manner in which the so-called Fifteenth amendment was declared part of the Constitution, and we will labor for its repeal, being opposed to negro suffrage—especially to having it forced on States contrary to the will of the people thereof.

2—Opposition to the Chinese system, or anything that injures or depreciates the dignity of white labor.

3—Opposition to corruption wherever found, and by whosoever perpetrated.

Ye friends of universal liberty and equal rights to all men, tremble over the denunciation of the XVth amendment by these wise men in council! Ye newly made citizens whose color mocks not the virgin white lily, tremble for these powerful men are opposed to negro suffrage and will labor for its repeal with all their might and main. But perhaps we will all draw consolation from the knowledge that these same patriots labored hard, earnestly, wickedly, to perpetuate slavery. Failing in that and to keep down under their feet the emancipated blacks, they strove to prevent the ballot from falling into the hands of the disenthralled blacks. We have reached a period in history when people don't go backward in measures pertaining to civilization, enlightenment and liberty. The colored people may rest secure in the rights and privileges vouchsafed them by a just nation. It is not in the province of the Democratic party, the Republican party, or even the new third party, to take away the enfranchisement boon granted the colored people, for God's hand not only wiped out slavery but lifted up the oppressed freedmen to the plane they were destined to occupy, and who can undo the great work accomplished?

The oriental "Johns" who are swarming to our land are to be opposed by our Democratic editors and denied a place in our workshops, on our railways, farms and plantations. But "John" is further along. He has not yet found his way into Pennsylvania, nor has he been found a bad element among foreigners. He is industrious, quiet and harmless, and as we have untold millions of acres of land to be explored and developed and standing room for all Christendom, we think John Chinaman might be afforded welcome.

The last declaration is good, wise and sound, every word of it, and it is one which every editor, be he Republican or Democrat, secular or religious can honestly endorse.

One declaration was forgotten, though, perhaps, thought and talked about, and that was to declare in favor of unity in the Democratic ranks, and to encourage bolting in the Republican party. That is certainly included in the undeveloped plans of the opposition managers, and the first practical illustration of it is witnessed here in the coalition formed to overthrow the regular Republican party. But the people have to offset these promulgated declarations with the simple one that the Democracy, with all its tricks and plans, must and will be kept in the same place occupied during the "past decade of years."

THE PROGRAMME.

There is no longer any room to doubt that the Democratic party has engineered the disintegration of the Republican organization and that the Commercial lends willing aid to help the work of destruction. The programme is developing. The Post pledges to help send a protectionist to Congress, and the candidate is in training in the Commercial ring. Gen. Negley must be disposed of; he is too faithful to his constituency, to his party and his own character, to suit the disappointed clique of Republicans who thought they could twist and mould him to suit their purposes. It would be a sad thing for the interests of this district should there be sent to Congress a Democrat to represent the people, or if by any combination a treacherous and purchasable Republican obtains the seat. And yet to accomplish either one of such ends is the sole aim of the ringleaders of the third party movement. If any evidence is needed to complete the confirmation of the fact that a well-devised scheme exists to overthrow the Republican party here and elsewhere throughout the State, we have it in the following expression from the Post of yesterday, in referring to the late convention of Democratic editors held at Altoona:

"Aside from the regular business transactions of the Convention, there were other matters taken under consideration, and definite conclusions arrived at that will tell upon the politics of the State in the immediate future, as will be developed by the general tone of the Democratic press.

"We take occasion to say in this connection, that the Democratic party will no longer tolerate any temporizing with the great questions of public policy. In the State of Pennsylvania, at least, the Democracy are united, and henceforth their campaigns will not only be progressive, but aggressive. We feel that we can say to the Democracy of the whole Union that the glorious old Keystone State is about to be disenthralled from Radical domination and will take its position in the Democratic phalanx, from which it has been practically displaced, through treachery and misplaced confidence during the last decade of years."

Will the Republicans calmly consider the situation, or will they willingly join hands with the treacherous members of their organization and deliver over the political power so long held to the opposition and weep over their folly in the future? Never before did there exist more pressing necessity for union in our party. We cannot afford to quarrel among ourselves while the enemy are moving upon us in solid columns. If we fail to properly appreciate the situation now, if we disband and fight under two flags, if we fritter away our strength, we will lose the battle, and for years to come we cannot regain what shall be lost, and the Democratic party, so long kept in the obiivion, its principles and doctrines warrant at the hands of a free people, will enthrone itself to rule with despotic tyranny. We have no time to pause, for the enemy are on the march, their campaign has commenced in good earnest and they will conquer if we present a divided front or a camp rank and rotten with spies and traitors. Will Republicans not arouse themselves from their lethargy, heal their differences and make ready for the impending battle? We think, we hope they will, but if they do not they will reap a whirlwind and suffer consequences for which they will be responsible.

OUR EXTRAVAGANCE.

One of the great, crying evils of our times and nation, is our extravagance. The people of these United States are proverbial over the world for their recklessness in the expenditure of money. Wherever they go their conduct in this regard is grievously felt and bitterly complained of. Within the last few years, since they commenced to visit Continental Europe in large numbers, hotel charges, and the demands of waiters and couriers are made on the most extravagant scale, so that tourists from the British isles, and elsewhere, complain that it is impossible for them, with their limited means, to travel on such routes as are frequented by Americans, who are so lavish with their money.

We are exorbitant in our demands, and desire to reap where we have not sown, and gather where we have not strewn. We are excessive in our likes and dislikes; in our joys and griefs; in our hopes and despairs; in our imaginations and expectations. We are inordinate in our desire for wealth, honor and distinction; for gorgeous houses, expensive furniture, and splendid equipages. In point of dress, we believe there is not a more extravagant nation in the world. The most fashionable promenades in London or Paris are not paced by a more richly dressed people, at any time, than can be seen every day on the thoroughfares of our least pretentious cities. Our extravagance is enriching Europe, and impoverishing ourselves.

Our reckless expenditure of money is not seen only in our magnificently appointed private residences, the trappings of fancy steeds, the richness and gayety of our attire and expensive cuisine, it is visible in our churches, the very place where we would expect to find a grave simplicity. Temples, for the worship of God, are erected each year at an expense far greater than the necessities of the case demand. We would feel as comfortable, although our pride might not be as fully gratified, if we assembled in less costly fanes, and the worship rendered would not be less acceptable. In vain will the press and economists call for retrenchment and reform in the modes of our social life, until the Church first sets the example.

A little extravagance at evening parties, and on matrimonial occasions may be excusable, but the gorgeous displays which we make at our funerals are not founded on a sensible appreciation of the solemnity of such occasions, nor can we see that they are respectful to the dead. Many a family incurs an expense on the occasion of the burial of its friends, from the impoverishing effects of which it does not recover for years, and which robs widows and orphans of the necessary comforts of life. The reason assigned—respect for departed relatives—may be laudable, but it is based upon a mistaken notion. Display on such occasions is, to say the least, unbecoming, and does not in any way enhance respect for the dead.

On this subject we might learn a very profitable lesson from the aristocratic circles of Great Britain. Within the past few weeks, two of England's most noted and respected public men have gone the way appointed for all living. Dickens and Clarendon are no more. The one achieved an immortal fame in the domain of letters, the other was one of the most honored of the English nobility, and filled several important and responsible positions in her Ministry. But in nothing did they commend themseves more to all sensible men, than in their express desire that their funerals should be kept strictly secret, and be unattended by any ostentatious ceremonies. The simple coffin of Dickens was carried in a plain hearse, "without feathers or trappings of any kind," from Charing Cross Terminus to Westminster Abbey. His remains were followed by three carriages, which contained the members of his family, and a few friends, in all, only twelve persons, who were attired in plain black, and wore neither bands nor scarfs.

The Cable informed us yesterday that the funeral of the Earl of Clarendon, which took place on the previous day, was equally private, and entirely free from all pomp and pageantry.

Let our millionaires, merchant princes, and men of letters and position, set an example of equal simplicity, and they will relieve many a family from a burden which is intolerable.

None cherish less fondly the memories of Dickens and Clarendon because they expressed a desire to be buried privately and unostentatiously, nor think less of their families because they discarded all extravagant display in the solemn hour of their interment. Let us benefit, then, by the example, which has been so nobly set by persons moving in the highest walks of life in England. The extravagant cost of a funeral neither brings honor to the living nor the dead.

Allegheny County Politics.

[From the Butler American.]

It is not our habit to meddle in the affairs of our neighbors—particularly political affairs. We have always supposed them capable of attending to all their own matters. But the movement in Allegheny county for a Republican organization outside the regular one, may be followed by such results as to justify all in speaking out and giving a word of counsel. If this movement should cause the loss to us of the next Legislature only, it will have done a serious injury. Why it is anticipated the next regular convention of our friends of Allegheny county will not act and do what is right, we are at a loss to know. We have known of dissatisfaction and defection after conventions have been held and nominations been made, but never before they have been held and made, until the present case. The usual way is to wait until a ticket is formed before we oppose or repudiate it. How can it be known who will or will not be nominated till a convention meets. And why cannot as good men be nominated at a regular convention as at an irregular one. If they are brought out and urged as strongly in the one case as in the other, they would be.

But, it is said, the time for holding the next Allegheny county convention, is late. So it seemed to us, until we learned that the time, August, is not an unusual one. As late as the year 1867 they held their convention in August, and frequently in that month within the last ten years. In the eastern counties of this State the usual time for making nominations is about the 1st of September. Without saying which is the better time to nominate, June or August, we can say, from experience, that a ticket nominated at the former time will undergo a quiet lull for about three months. Until the harvest is over and the election approaches but little is said of the merits of a ticket, pro or con, so that a ticket might as well be nominated in September as in June, for all practical purposes. We hope the leaders of this independent movement in Allegheny county will reconsider before it is too late, and not borrow trouble in advance. The regular convention is open to all and plenty of time to have right and justice done in all respects.

An Important Invention.

The San Francisco Bulletin says: After twenty years of toil and trouble, Elander Heath, a mechanic of this city, has succeeded in manufacturing a remarkable dovetailing machine, for which he obtained a patent from Washington yesterday. The invention relates to an improved machine for forming the dovetail joints of drawers and boxes, and is likely to prove remunerative to the owner. It consists of two sliding frames, moving on tables, one of which serves to dovetail the end, and the other the side pieces of a box, without the use of swinging guides, numerous gauges and leveled tables—the whole being easily fitted so as to operate on common sawing tables. The saws for the two tables can be fastened to the same mandrel, or they may have separate mandrels. The two tables, also, may stand side by side or be separated, and may be used for all ordinary purposes of sawing, by simply removing the sliding frames. The sliding frame for the side pieces has a tapering guide fastened to one of the cross-beams so as to give the desired angle to the tenon, the board standing upon this guide while the frame slides at right angles with the saw mandrel. The end pieces are formed on a similar sliding frame on the table, but the guides in this case stand at a right angle with the mandrel. When the table is fitted up for this work of dovetailing especially, a great number of saws and cutters may be used, so that that all the dovetails of any lot may be cut at once, by two motions of each frame, leaving nothing more to be done except to fit them together. The machine is simple in construction, can be made at a cost not to exceed three hundred dollars; and will do as much work in two minutes as can be done by hand in the same number of hours.

THE Jewish population in Roumania has increased in that principality from 60,000 in 1849 to upward of 400,000 in 1870. The Jews there are said to enjoy all possible freedom, and to possess 176 synagogues, while there are only 63 Roman Catholics, 12 Protestant and 11 Armenian churches in the country. The Roumanian government has sent a number of young Jews, at its own expense, to complete their education in Paris, and has conferred a pension upon the widow of Dr. Burache, a Jew, who held the position of Professor in the Military Academy, and at whose funeral an eloquent address was delivered by one of the most eloquent Christian prelates of Roumania. The Romanian journals caution the world against the false publications of the "Alliance Israelite," of Paris, which association is responsible for the hoax recently practiced upon this country.

Obituary Extraordinary.

The following remarkable effusion accompanied a death notice in a recent Milwaukee paper:

A little girl of that city had been drowned while playing with a pet dog and her schoolmates on the river's bank and while her heart-broken parents and kindred were in the sorest affliction, a poetical friend of the family sang, through the press: "O! let her claim one pleasant hour with young companions gay; We see the song birds onward tour, And why should she not play? With buoyant spirits on she walked, The pet dog followed near, And with her neighbor's children talked in accents loud and clear. When by the waterside they stood, All joined a game of 'spy.' With cheerful heart, in mirthful mood, The dog chased far and nigh. Just at that moment Mollie fell Into the rippling stream, While men were standing closely by, With coward hearts, I ween. One playmate ran and begged of them To render Mollie aid; These wolves dressed in the garbs of men, Were deaf to all she said. Twice, thrice, she rose, again, again, The children cried aloud, 'Save Mollie Thompson, do, good men!' No! no! the monsters vowed! Poor Mollie stretched her snow white arm: 'Oh, mercy! save me, pray!' These men looked on without alarm, Then basely sneaked away. No! not an effort would they make; The children scream and run; Poor Mollie must us all forsake Before the setting sun. The crowd soon now came round the spot, But not a glimpse was seen. Is this the place? Is that? or not? No mark was left between. A gallant boy plunged boldly in, To rescue, or to try. Too late! too late! O what a sin! These feeling children cry. At length one of earth's noble men, Brave Tompkins, is his name, Heedless of clothes, or boots, or when, Dived headlong in the stream, And brought Poor Mollie's snow-white face To surface of the deep, Her hair confused and out of place, Her eyelids closed in sleep. The father at this time ran wild, Bewildered at the sight; Unto his bosom pressed his child, And homeward sped with might. No pains were spared to bring her round—Alas! 'twas all in vain; And she was wrapt within her shroud, No more to play again. Poor Mollie's teachers heard the news, And flocked around her corse, The shock did ev'ry heart confuse With anguish and remorse; The scholars, too—God bless them now!—In sorrow looked dismayed; They strewed sweet flowers on her brow, And o'er the coffin prayed. And now, poor Mollie, in thy shell, We'll bid a last adieu, O, may we meet in heaven to tell how one and all loved you! The parents and the family, For mercy rent the air; With pang of sudden agony, They laid their bosoms bare." After which follows an elegiac acrostic! Imagine the feelings of the mourning family when, after the first tempest of their great grief shall have subsided, some friend calls their attention to the above astonishing "lines!"

Church Missionary "Kidnapping" in India.

[From the Punjab (Lahore) Times, May 10.]

The Christian Missionary is at his old game again of what is known as "baby conversion." This time, however, he succeeds in reaching his victim through one of the teachers of the Zenana Mission, who had been hitherto unsuspectedly admitted into most of our native households. It seems that on Saturday last a young Hindoo widow girl, aged about fourteen years, who used to receive her first lessons from a Zenana teacher by the name of Miss Martha, belonging to the Church Missionary Society, was removed from her house by the latter without the knowledge or consent of her widowed mother, and under the auspices of the Rev. J. Vaughan, baptized in hot haste. She was placed by the reverend gentleman in the house of one Hazra, a native convert, and there detained from the lawful custody and guardianship of her mother. The reverend gentleman and his accomplices were served with an attorney's letter calling upon them to deliver the girl into her mother's custody, but this was refused, and we understand that immediately on receipt of the letter the girl was baptised, and the next day the mother was informed by Rev. J. Vaughan of her baptism. A few relatives and friends who accompanied the mother in bringing back the girl were treated to a volley of abusive epithets by the Christian fraternity of Amherst street. Such are the facts of the conversion of the present victim of the missionary body. The story will speak for itself.

The text will no doubt form the subject of a grandiloquent report of the progress of the mission, by the Rev. J. Vaughan, and so the supporters of the mission and the British public will be considerably hoodwinked, the questionable means resorted to for conversion being of course carefully kept out of view. We are afraid that the present instance will give a death blow to the cause of native female education through the Zenana mission. Already it has been a warning to many Hindoo families in the city. The aged mother, we are informed, is about to take proceedings at law for the restitution of the person of the girl.

A Conductor's Story—A Coffin Without a Corpse.

A western railway conductor tells this horrible story:

"I was running on a train between Detroit and Chicago, in 186–. A gentleman of Chicago was taking East the dead body of his brother for burial among the family friends in New England. During the night the wooden coffin, by reason of the friction of the nails against those of the large rough box which enclosed it, or in some more mysterious way, caught fire, and before discovered the corpse was burned to a crisp, the outer covering of the coffin being but little injured. When the horrible fact was made known by me to the brother, after taking him aside, I thought he would then die. His grief unmanned me more and broke me down more completely than all the killing and mangling I had ever seen. 'His sister must never know this,' said he, after a long paroxysm of grief, 'it will kill her.' All the employes of the company acquainted with what had happened were sworn to secresy. An elegant new coffin was procured at Chicago, in which the burned remains were carefully fastened, and the grief stricken brother conveyed the ashes, literally, of the dead, East and they were buried without any friend, save one, knowing that the coffin contained no corpse. And that brother has kept this sad secret from his people and from the press to this day.

A Contradiction.

The report that the Episcopal Convention of the Diocese of Wisconsin adopted a canon, that "Every communicant of the church marrying outside of our communion, or married by any other than a clergyman of our church, shall stand ipso facto excommunicated," is thus corrected by a correspondent of the Detroit Tribune:

"It so happened that I was present at the Convention of the Diocese of Wisconsin, at Milwaukee, on Wednesday last, when a young man introduced the above-mentioned canon, who stated that he did so upon his own responsibility, and without expecting its favorable consideration. It was received with much merriment, and without one word of favor from any person but the young man who offered it. As a matter of simple courtesy to the man, it was, at his own request, referred to the Committee on Claims, and the committee, without leaving their seats, reported in words of pleasantry against it, and the proposed canon was rejected without one vote in its favor, except that of its author. The whole subject was out of the way in as little time as it has taken to pen this contradiction."

General Anderson.

The Chicago Tribune contains the following:

A late number of your paper contained a notice of General Robert Anderson and his present embarassed condition, which every American surely must have read with the deepest humiliation. Why his services, which can hardly be overrated, have so long gone unrewarded, it is not easy to say; but a tardy act of justice is better than never, and if we cannot wipe from the national fame the stigma of having neglected one of our heroes, we can, at least, put a limit to it. The remedy is at hand. Let it be applied at once. The subscription of one dollar from all those who have been benefited by Gen. Anderson's example of fidelity and heroism will cheer the remnant of his days, and assure the world that republics are not ungrateful. Put me down for the first dollar, or the last.
QUIS.
CHICAGO, June 28, 1870.

Two men got into a car laden with oats in bulk, to sleep, at Sandusky. When they awoke the door was locked and the car in motion. It was not until two or three days after, when the train was at Bellaire, that their groans caused them to be discovered, when they were almost dead with heat, suffocation and exhaustion, and were quite insensible.

THE LIVING MACHINE.
Injure the main spring of a watch and every portion of the works become disordered. The human stomach is to the human system what that elastic piece of metal is to the chronometer. It influences the action of the other organs, and controls to a certain extent, the whole living machine. The comparison may be carried farther, for as the weakness or other imperfections of the main spring is indicated on the face of the time-piece, so also is the weakness or other disorder of the stomach betrayed by the face of the invalid. The complexion is sallow or faded. The eyes are deficient in lustre and intelligence, and there is a worn, anxious expression in the whole countenance which tell as plainly as written words could do, that the great nourishing organ, whose office it is to minister to the wants of the body, and to sustain and renew all its parts, is not performing its duty. It requires renovating and regulating, and to accomplish this end Hostetter's Stomach Bitters may be truly said to be the one thing needful. The broken main spring of a watch may be replaced by a new one, but the stomach can only be repaired and strengthened, and this is one of the objects of the famous vegetable restorative which for eighteen years has been waging a successful contest with dyspepsia in all climates. As a specific for indigestion it stands alone. When the resources of the pharmacopoea have been exhausted, without, at best, doing more than mitigating the complaint, a course of this wholesome and palatable, yet powerful, stomachic effects a perfect and permanent cure. In all cases of dyspepsia, the liver is more or less disordered, and upon this important gland, as well as upon the stomach and bowels, the Bitters act with singular distinctness, regulating and reinvigorating every secretive and assimilating organ on which bodily and mental health depend.

DR. WHITTIER
CONTINUES TO TREAT ALL PRIVATE DISEASES, Syphilis in all its forms, all urinary diseases, and the effects of mercury are completely eradicated; Spermatorrhea or Seminal Weakness and Impotency, resulting from self-abuse or other causes, and which produce some of the following effects, as blotches, bodily weakness, indigestion, consumption, aversion to society, unmanliness, dread of future events, loss of memory, indolence, nocturnal emissions, and finally so prostrating the sexual system as to render marriage unsatisfactory, and therefore imprudent, are permanently cured. Persons afflicted with these or any other delicate, intricate or long standing constitutional complaint should give the Doctor a trial; he never fails.
A particular attention given to all Female complaints, Leucorrhea or Whites, Falling, Inflammation or Ulceration of the Womb, Ovaritis, Pruritis, Amenorrhoea, Menorrhagia, Dysmenorrhoea, and Sterility or Barrenness, are treated with the greatest success.
It is self-evident that a physician who confines himself exclusively to the study of a certain class of diseases and treats thousands of cases every year must acquire greater skill in that specialty than one in general practice.
The Doctor publishes a medical pamphlet of fifty pages that gives a full exposition of venereal and private diseases that can be had free at office or by mail for two stamps, in sealed envelopes. Every sentence contains instruction to the afflicted, and enabling them to determine the precise nature of their complaints.
The establishment, comprising ten ample rooms, is central. When it is not convenient to visit the city, the Doctor's opinion can be obtained by giving a written statement of the case, and medicines can be forwarded by mail or express. In some instances, however, a personal examination is absolutely necessary, while in others daily personal attention is required, and for the accommodation of such patients there are apartments connected with the office that are provided with every requisite that is calculated to promote recovery, including medicated vapor baths. All prescriptions are prepared in the Doctor's own laboratory, under his personal supervision. Medical pamphlets at office free, or by mail for two stamps. No matter who have failed, read what he says. Hours 9 A. M. to 8 P. M. Sundays 12 M. to 2 P. M. Office, No. 9 WYLIE ST. (near Court House) Pittsburgh.

MONEY AND COMMERCE.

[By Telegraph to Pittsburgh Gazette.]

NEW YORK, June 30, 1870.

The cable reports a decrease of 21,000,000 francs in the Bank of France in bullion. This large falling off is due to payments for the recent heavy French purchase of grain in America and on the continent. In London money is dearer than in Paris. This is also the case at some other financial centres of Europe, which causes a draw of bullion from Paris. The railroad competition between the trunk lines is not yet settled, and rates for first class freights will be advanced to the old standard by July 1st. Competition on passenger fares and cattle freights continues.

The Assistant Treasurer to-day paid $1,279,505 in gold on account of the July interest.

Money unchanged at 3@5 on call.

PITTSBURGH CATTLE MARKET.

EAST LIBERTY STOCK YARDS, THURSDAY, June 30, 1870.

CATTLE.

The receipts of cattle have been remarkably light this week, the sales since the date of our last report only footing up about 800 head, against 2,000 head the week preceding. The very light arrivals this week may be attributed to a number of causes, among the most prominent of which are: The markets in the east, particularly Philadelphia, to which place was shipped the greater portion of the cattle bought here last week, were very hard and unsatisfactory, and nearly every man who had cattle in the last named market lost money, some of them a great deal of it, and as might be expected, they were not so anxious to buy this week, unless they could do so at a considerable reduction, and this could not be accomplished, owing to the very meagre number on sale. And we presume that many of the western operators are at home this week looking after their crops, and this, together with the fact that the market last week was unfavorable—as it is reported that but few of them made anything, as prices are relatively higher in the west than in the east—was the principal cause of the very light receipts here this week. Compared with last week, however, there is little or no change in prices, but this is due mainly to the unusual supply. Had there been the same number of cattle on sale that there were last week, there would, in all probability, have been a break, and it was fortunate for those who had cattle on sale that such was not the case, that the offerings were small. As will be seen, the sales were within the range of 6 to 8 cents, some few at 8¼, but it should be borne in mind that there were but few really good cattle in the market, and the same grade of cattle that brought 9c last week would, in all probability, have brought that figure this week. Indeed, Hedges & Taylor sold 30 head of prime Ohio steers, averaging 1,300, to McPherson, at $115 per head, or 9 cts per lb.

SHEEP.

There was a full supply of sheep, mostly however, of the common and medium grades, but with a pretty full attendance of buyers, the market was reasonably active though prices are lower than last week—some dealers quoted a decline of ½ cent per pound. Quotations may be given as follows: 70@75 lb averages, 3½@4 cents; 80, 4½@5; 85 to 90, 5½@5¾; 100, 6@6½—only one drove sold at the outside quotation. One firm reports having sold, on commission, about 5,000 head at an average of 5 cts, or within the range of $2 per head to 6½ cts per pound.

HOGS.

The arrivals this week have been unusually light, and notwithstanding the excessive hot weather, the market, especially for the best grades, is better and prices about ¼ higher than last week. The demand is no better, and shippers continue to take hold very sparingly, but with an unusually light supply, an advance was unavoidable, as there was for a time, as there always is under similar circumstances, a pretty lively competition; and shippers in order to get the number they wanted, run prices up on each other a ¼ to a ½. York hogs, have undergone but little change, as compared with last week, and there was little or no inquiry for this particular grade. Philadelphia hogs sold at 9⅛@9⅜, against 9@9⅛, last week.

PITTSBURGH MARKET.

OFFICE OF PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, THURSDAY, June 30, 1870.

Many of the Chicago grain operators, especially the "bulls," who are carrying a heavy load of wheat, are very much dissatisfied with the course of the banks in demanding increased margins, and some of them go so far as to allege that the banks are in the interest of the "bears." Taking a proper view of the matter, however, the banks are perfectly justified in the course they have taken as it was essential in order to protect themselves, notwithstanding it was a serious matter for the "bulls," as it compelled some of them at least to unload sooner than they had expected to, and as a good deal of wheat was thrown upon the market in this way, lower prices were inevitable. The Chicago Tribune says: "The bankers have commenced to discriminate against grain holders, so much as to render it almost impossible for any one to carry it unless blessed with an independent fortune, or possessing peculiar facilities, such as those which enable a few to carry it and charge 12 per cent per month for the accommodation. It would be interesting to know the parties who are interested in bearing the markets, and to understand the exact extent to which they are able to control the money market to their own benefit. The exhibit might prove to be equal to the transactions of a gambler who holds a handful of stocked cards."

We also clip the following on the same subject from the same paper: Wheat is now worth 8s 9d per cental in Liverpool. That is equivalent to $1,29 per bushel in American gold, counting sterling exchange at its par of 9⅛. Wheat in this market at $1,05, currency, is 96 cents in gold. The cost of freight from here to Liverpool, with commissions in that market, is, in round figures, 40 cents in gold per bushel. Add this to the 96 cents, and we have $1,36 per bushel in gold, showing that this market is 7 cents in gold, or nearly 8 cents in currency, above the Liverpool market.

APPLES—Sales of new crop at $4 to 5,50@6 per bbl as to quality.

ASHES—Steady but unchanged; Common Soda, 4c; Refined, 4½c; Pearls, 9½c; Pots, 7½c.

BROOMS—Store prices; Fancy, $5,50; No. 1, $4,50; No. 2, $4; No. 3, $3,50; Common, $2,50@3.

BUTTER—Is dull as ever but unchanged—we continue to quote at 14@18 cts., for fair to choice.

CHEESE—Sale of Western Reserve at 11@12, and Factory and Goshen at 13@14.

CHICKENS—In better supply and lower; we now quote at 65@70cts per pair by the coop.

CORNMEAL—95@$1 per bushel.

CEMENT—Sales of Louisville Hydraulic at $3@3¼ per bbl.

CARBON OIL—Is dull and weak; nominal at 23@23¼, in a jobbing way.

DRIED FRUIT—There is some little inquiry and the market is almost bare of the better qualities. Apples 4½@5½. Peaches 5½@6½ for quarters, and 7@8 for halves.

EGGS—Dull but unchanged; sales reported at 19@20, mostly at 19.

FEATHERS—Quiet and unchanged, at 80@85 cts. to the trade.

FLOUR—Is quiet and unchanged—the demand is less active and mainly local, while prices are unchanged. We continue to quote good western flours, in store, at $6½. Fancy brands $7@8. Rye flour, $5.

GRAIN—We can report a fair milling demand for wheat, but millers are very bearish and clamorous for lower prices; they are only offering $1,20 for red, but then very little to be had at this figure. We can report a sale, on wharf, at $1,23 for red, and $1,40 for white. There is but little doing in oats; and no change in quotations; dealers are paying 49@50c in first hands; and furnishing sacks; may be quoted at 52½@53c on free cars to go east, and 54@55 for small lots in store. Corn is again dull and drooping, with considerable offering at 90; there would be no difficulty in selling at 85, but the great bulk of the corn in this market costs from 84@85, and dealers are not disposed to sell at cost if they can help it. Rye is quiet and unchanged, 85@90 — might bring 91 or 92, to go east, delivered free on cars.

HAY—The receipts are falling off, but with no improvement in the demand, the market is very dull, while prices are unchanged; sales from country wagons at $9@16, as to quality and condition.

HEMP—Sales of undressed Kentucky Hemp at $167.

HUSKS—Corn husks, 3@3¼ cts.

LIME—Sales of Cleveland at $2,25 per bbl, and eastern at $1,75.

LARD OIL—Extra No. 1 is quoted at $1,23@1,25 and No. 2 at 80.

PROVISIONS—Market steady but unchanged. Plain Shoulders, 13¾@14 cts Sugar Cured do, 16@16¼; Ribbed Sides, 16⅛@16¼; Short Rib Sides, 17@17⅛; Clear, do, 17⅛@17¼; Sugar Cured Hams, 22½@23; Second pickel Hams, 21@21½. Breakfast Bacon, 19@19½. Mess Pork, $30½@31. Lard, 17 in tcs, and 18@18¼ in kegs and buckets.

PEANUTS—Dull. Tennessee, 8@9 cts.

POTATOES—Sales of prime old Peach Blows at 60 to 65 cts per bushel. Sales of new crop at $4 per bbl.

SEEDS—Flaxseed is in active demand, and crushers are taking all that offers at $,25. Nothing doing in Clover or Timothy Seeds.

PETROLEUM MARKET.

OFFICE OF PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, THURSDAY, June 30, 1870.

The oil market was somewhat excited today, both here and in Philadelphia, occasioned by some parties who were short being unable to cover, and an effort was made to put crude up here and to advance refined in Philadelphia. The movement was at least a partial success in Philadelphia, while here it was kind of mixed, as at 4 P. M. there were still some contracts out unsettled. There would have been sufficient oil in Philadelphia to cover all or nearly all of the contracts if it had not been for the fact that there was a large amount rejected in consequence of being off color, supposed to have been caused by the excessive hot weather—it is said some fifteen thousand bbls were rejected on this account.

CRUDE.

Spot oil, as already intimated, was somewhat firmer, occasioned by several parties being "short," and settlements in some instances could not be effected, as the buyers wanted to settle on a basis considered above the market price. We heard of a settlement of 5,000 bbls at 11⅜; and other settlements could have been effected at this figure, but the buyers wanted 12. July, is also better, with a sale reported at 11⅜. Seller August quoted at 12; and September to October at same figure.

REFINED.

Spot refined was also stronger and higher. We can report a sale of 1,000 bbls at 27⅜—later in the day it was quoted at 27¾@28, and tonight, it may go to 29 or 30 cts., before settlements are all made—there is no telling. Futures quiet though firmer.

RIVER NEWS.

There has been considerable rain both up the Allegheny and Monongahela rivers within the past two days, but not enough to cause a rise of any consequence. Red Bank is reperted as having risen considerable, and, probably, some other smaller streams, and it is probable there will be a swell of a few inches here, nothing more.

There has been no arrivals or departures since the date of our last report, excepting the slackwater packets.

The Wild Duck and barges are safely laid up at Freedom. She was so much delayed in double tripping, that by the time she got there, the river had fallen so that she could proceed no further.

The Belle went on the dock yesterday but will be off in time to leave for Brownsville and Geneva as usual to-morrow evening.

—We clip the following from the Cincinnati Commercial: There is another sale on the tapis, which will probably be consumated on Saturday. Capts. Robinson and Collins have bargained with Capt. Sweeney for the St. Marys for 22,000, deliverable on that day. Her new owners design placing her in the Cincinnati and Pittsburgh trade. She is a large sidewheel steamer and a rattler for speed.

—Sunday's Memphis Avalanche says: Capt. King, an old and worthy steamboat commander, died Friday night and was buried last evening. Capt. King, at one time, was proprietor of the famous King's hotel, at St. Louis, but has been steamboating on the Southern waters since the war, principally on the Arkansas river. The steamers in port displayed their colors at half mest in respect to his memory.

—The new boat City of Vicksburg, being completed at Portland for the St. Louis and Memphis Packet Line, will probably be completed within fifteen or twenty days. Her builders are using every exertion to have her ready as soon as possible, as they see and feel the necessity of getting her out of the Ohio before the low-water season.

—Captain Adam Liter, of South Carrolton, Ky., an old an experienced steamboatman, has purchased the commanding interest in the steamer Mary Miller, with the design of running her as a regular packet between Evansville and Memphis, as soon as the fall trade opens.

—A Cairo dispatch under date of Tuesdays says: The Baltic brought coal for Cairo and St. Louis; Sam Brown has coal. The Horner took coal brought by the Mary Ann for New Orleans, and the Mary Ann returned with empty barges brought by the Horner.

—Commodore Davidson and Captain A. M. Hutchison left St. Louis Sunday, and will traverse the Northern lakes. The latter, it is asserted, will be permanently located at Chicago as special agent of the North-western Union Packet Company.

—Captain Charles T. Hind has sold his mammeth two-story wharf-boat, which has just been completed at Metropolis, Illinois, to Captain J. M. Phillips, who has been engaged in wharfboating at Cairo for several years past.

—The Louisville and Tennessee River packet Leclaire No. 2 retires from the trade on account of low water and the scarcity of business. She goes to the boneyard to be repaired and painted up for the fall trade.

—Four men were injured on the Belle of Alton at St. Louis a few days ago by the premature discharge of a cannon. Three of them will lose their eyesight.

—The Gallatin was sold at Memphis, Saturday, to the Memphis and St. Louis Packet Company, and left for St. Louis in charge of Captain W. C. Postal.

—The Government dredge boats, Monitor and Caffery, are at Le Claire, undergoing repairs. They expect to start out the first of next month.

—On the last trip of the Viola Belle from St Louis to Fort Benton, the crew killed four buffalos, three antelopes, two elks and two deers.

—The present rise will, in all probability, be sufficient to enable the Carrie V. Kountz to get off the bar where she has been so long.

—A fire-engine and pump have been placed on a tug for the protection of steamers at Memphis.

—The Jim Watson is towing rock from Cannelton for the Cumberland River rail road bridge.

—The Cumberland river was falling on Tuesday with 6 feet on Harpeth Shoals.

—The Fontenelle is laid up at New Orleans. She is receiving a new texas.

—The Salvor No. 2 left St. Louis Saturday for the wreck of the Columbian.

—The steamer Dexter is on the Mound City ways.

CHARLES L. FROST, }

These bonds have 50 years to run, are convertible at the option of the holder into the stock of the Company at par, and the payment of the principal is provided for by a sinking fund.

The greater part of the road is already completed and shows large earnings, and the balance of the work is rapidly progressing.

We unhesitatingly recommend these Bonds as the safest and best investment in the market.

U. S. Five-twenties, at present prices, only return five per cent. interest, while these pay eight and one-quarter per cent. in Gold, and we regard the security equally good.

The Company reserve the right, without notice, to advance the price.

Alderman Eggers yesterday issued a warrant for the arrest of Catherine Litz for committing a nuisance upon the premises of Louisa Schmidt.

Kate Hughes objected in a legal information yesterday to being called vile names by William Stewart. Alderman Butler issued a warrant for William's arrest.

John Thomas was before Alderman Neubert yesterday for insulting Margaret Davis. The case was not made out and the prosecutrix paid the costs of the suit.

Geo. Taylor, residing on Main street, Allegheny, for maintaining an unmuzzled canine which bit Charley Taylor, yesterday, has his name figuring upon Alderman Mullen's docket, and will be arrested whenever found.

Betsy Anderson exhibited her spite at Fred Rubsamen by calling him names. She was such an expert that Fred felt justified in calling Alderman Neubert's attention to the facts, when Betsy was arrested. The case was finally settled.

Ungallant Jacob Kachs yesterday called Mary J. Aust bad names and threatened to give her a hot water bath—scalding hot. Alderman Mullen's police are instructed to intercept the sanguinary proceedings by arresting Jacob on sight.

Exploded.—Yesterday morning a still bursted at Livingston & Bro.'s oil refinery, just above the Sharpsburg bridge, or what used to be that structure. The still and contents were destroyed, but no other damage done. The loss was not large.

George M. Berch was committed to jail yesterday by Alderman McMasters, for trial, for false pretence. It was alleged that he had obtained boarding to the amount of $18, from Joseph Gibson, by representing that he had $100 coming to him from a firm in the city, which was not the case.

Yesterday morning a horse attached to a spring wagon ran off in Duquesne Way. The flying team, wagon and all, brought up at the river against the Pittsburgh Barge Club boat house, just above the Suspension bridge. The wagon was demolished, the boat house side crushed in, and nobody hurt.

The Connubial tenderness of John Vogel was manifested yesterday in chastising his wife Catherine, diminishing the supply of their crockery ware and threatening to dissolve matrimonial partnership by causing the demise of Catherine. John is now in jail, awaiting a hearing to come off to-day before Alderman Mullen.

Inquest.—Alderman Donaldson held an inquest on the body of an infant about nine months' old, which died suddenly at the Union Depot, Wednesday evening. The child, accompanied by its mother, an English woman, was traveling west, and had been sick for several days. The jury found that the child died from natural causes.

Escaped and Recaptured.—Charles Kennedy, committed to the workhouse by the Mayor on the 14th inst. for ninety days, escaped from that institution Wednesday evening, and was yesterday recaptured by Lieut. Emmett, in the Twelfth ward, and brought to the lockup. The Mayor sent him back to the work house to serve out the remainder of his time.

No Thoroughfare.—Jacob Sigmundi drove through the yard of John Wain, Fourth ward, Allegheny, yesterday, breaking down a clothes line and agitating the female members of the establishment to such an extent that Mr. Wain was compelled to call upon Alderman Mullen and have the intruder arrested for malicious mischief. He will have a hearing.

Coaled.—Wilson's glass house, Birmingham, was the scene of a little unpleasantness yesterday between two of the employees, during which J. B. Wright silenced his opponent, James Parker, by hitting him on the head with a piece of coal. Alderman Thomas subsequently was called upon by Parker, and the visit resulted in a warrant being issued for Wright's arrest.

First Presbyterian Church Organ—Postponement of Exhibition.—The exhibition of the splendid new organ in the First Presbyterian Church, which was to have taken place this evening, has been postponed for a short time, as the organ is not yet completed. Notice will be given in our columns when the exhibition will take place. We understand, however, that it will be used in the services on next Sunday.

Aggravated Assault and Battery.—J. A. Jamison made information before the Mayor yesterday charging John Duff, John Kramer and George Kramer with aggravated assault and battery. It is alleged that Duff attacked Mr. Jamison, a member of Council from the Twenty-third ward with a club and beat him in a brutal manner and that the Kramers aided and abetted him. They were arrested and held for a hearing.

Some of the members of the Pittsburgh Barge club, had a very pleasant excursion last evening. Three of the boats manned by fifteen of the members were rowed up to the Belvidere, near Sharpsburg where an excellent supper was attended to with a relish that only oarsmen can know of.

The host M. E. Eichenlaub understands how to keep a hotel, having been a proprietor of this excellent house since 1857.

That Fountain.—The petition of the citizens of the First ward, Allegheny, for a drinking fountain on the Southwest square of the Diamond has been heeded. Who erected the fountain we are not informed, but the fountain is there, as every one may see who passes the Diamond. It is styled the "Fountain of Health." It is not a very elaborate affair either in design or finish, yet it looks quite as well as a load of hay or a "huckster stand."

Borrower in Trouble.—A wagon wheel has been the cause of vexatious litigation between Jacob, Caroline and Fred. Minkle, of Allegheny. Fred. borrowed the wheel of Jacob but kept it so long that the owner called for it. He didn't get the wheel but he did get kicked out. Meditating upon revenge he sought the office of Alderman Bolster yesterday, and made information charging Frederick with assault and battery and trover and conversion. Warrant issued.

Still to be Continued.—The Festival at South Common M. E. Church will be continued to-night and also on Monday evening, July 4th, at which time sealed votes will be received on the banner for the most popular Sunday school. Also sealed votes on the gold headed cane which is being contested for by the friends of Walter and Bidgle. Walter got ahead again last evening. The contest is waxing warm and it is hard to say at present writing who will be fortunate enough to get it.

Serenade.—Last evening the toils of journalistic life were most agreeably diversified by a delightful serenade, with which we were favored by the popular Iron City Brass Band, under the skillful leadership of Mr. Julius Moore. A number of favorite airs were played, the sweet music evoked attesting in the fullest measure the proficiency of the members in the "art divine." For the pleasant serenade they have the thanks of the whole force, editorial, compositorial and office, all of whom will be pleased to have them call "early and often."

Through the Pipe.

Mike Callahan, a youth of fourteen summers, who was committed to the House of Refuge by the Mayor on the 25th inst., at the instance of his mother, remained in the institution about twenty minutes, as near as can be ascertained, and then took his departure through a sewer pipe which leads from the building to the river. He had been gone about five minutes when the keepers of the institution missed him and thinking he had gone through the pipe, attempted to head him off and catch him when he emerged from its mouth, but they were too late. He has not been seen or heard of in that locality since.

The Commencement of Avery College.

Our colored fellow-citizens of this vicinity are anticipating a brilliant time at the anniversary of this Institution, which will take place on the 7th of July. The Literary Societies will be addressed by Senator H. R. Revels and Judge Wright, of the Supreme Court of South Carolina. Among other distinguished colored scholars who will be present are Bishops John M. Brown and Singleton T. Jones, and the able Hebrew scholar Rev. C. H. Thompson, of Newark, N. J., and Major T. Morris Chester. Truly our colored citizens ought to be proud of such a programme and prepared to give their brethren a becoming reception.

RESENTED THE INSULT.

Ferocious Attack—The Punishment Received.

Yesterday, shortly after noon, a man was brought to the lockup in an intoxicated condition, and looking as if he had just passed through an amateur surgical operation. He could not give his name, but the explanation of his appearance was given by the officer. The man, it seems, while under the influence of liquor, entered Weber,s beer saloon, Penn avenue, near Sixteenth street, and endeavored to raise a disturbance. Mrs. Weber was in attendance at the time, and after a few minutes the visitor addressed some words to her which she considered insulting. She immediately attacked him with a club and ejected him from the saloon after inflicting a deep gash upon his forehead, and otherwise abusing him. He was so terribly beaten that medical assistance had to be called in, when his wounds were properly dressed. The lockup then received him, and to-day the case will be investigated.

THE EAST LIBERTY SENSATION.

The Bubble Burst—Facts, Not Fancies—Dame Rumor Cornered—The Truth of the Matter.

The Dispatch thus very truthfully and successfully explodes a sensation which crept into our columns a day or two ago. We are glad to put the parties right on the record, for we know that they were both injured by the publication of the item, and unwarrantably so, for few gentlemen occupy higher position in public estimation than they. Here is the statement of the Dispatch, which, after most careful inquiry we are prepared to heartily endorse:

The city papers of Monday and Tuesday contained what purported to be particulars of a very sensational scene which occurred in East Liberty on last Sabbath. The parties who figured in this affair had hitherto been recognized as among our most respectable citizens, and, at the time, although brief mention of the affair was made in the Dispatch, we gave no names, and strongly doubted the probability of the story, which was to the effect that the wife of a well-known stock-broker, had been found in rather an awkward position by the lady's husband. In order to have a full understanding of the matter, we yesterday paid a visit to East Liberty, and from disinterested parties obtained a full account of what gave rise to the rumor. The partners referred to have long occupied a leading position among the stock dealers at the East Liberty stock yards, and for several years they have enjoyed the fullest confidence of each other, and as far as the world's goods were concerned, had prospered finely.

The partner, against whom the finger of scorn was, for the moment, pointed, has been known among his associates as one of the most exemplary young men doing business about the stock yards, and the news of his difficulty with his partner, and the surrounding circumstances, threw all who know those concerned into a fever of excitement. Ever since this occurrence of Sunday, which was referred to in the papers, the neighborhood of East Liberty and several sections of the city, where the parties were known, was alive with the most picturesque description of "a scene" between the two partners, and the story receiving a fresh impetus from every one who dealt it out, culminated yesterday morning in a most pathetic and minute description of the occasion.

Determining to find out the truth or falsity of the story which had gained credence, not only from the newspapers, but from the scandal mongers and citizens generally, we visited the scene of the affair and inquired into the particulars.

After having heard the rumor, as it first gained ground, which was to the effect that the senior partner and his daughter had gone to church; that another daughter had soon after appeared in the church and requested her father to return to the hotel, where they were residing, as a strange scene was being enacted in their room between the junior partner and the senior partner's wife; how that the married gentleman rushed to the hotel and there discovered his wife and the junior partner in a loving and affectionate state; with this on hand we looked for facts. Now, in the outset, we have it from both gentlemen implicated in the affair, that this statement as to what incurred the little "unpleasantness" that did transpire was not brought about in the manner indicated at all.

The senior partner, accompanied by one of his daughters, had gone to church. Soon after, the other daughter of the gentleman arrived in the church, and, seating herself in the pew made a remark to her father relative to the extreme heat of the day. The gentleman in response to the remark said that he would not remain during service but would return to the hotel. He did so, and, on ascending to his room, found the door to the sleeping apartment of himself and wife lying open, while in the center of the room stood the gentleman's wife and on her shoulder rested the hand of the junior partner. At the sight, the lady's husband became strangely affected, and doubtless his brain was fired with jealously or an idea that his domestic relations were not as happy as they might be. Anyhow, the two gentlemen had a few words of rather animated conversation, after which they withdrew to a private parlor, where any misunderstanding that might have been between them was happily healed.

Herein lies the entire basis for all the absurd stories of a neck and neck encounter which was so freely circulated.

We yesterday conversed with both the gentleman who assured us that the above was all that occurred.

The husband, who felt himself wronged, it is but proper to state, had not long since received a letter from an anonymous writer, warning him against his partner, and referring to sundry little acts of devotion (which were none other than acts of kindness) which he had noticed between the parties. The contents of this letter, the writer of which has not been discovered, nor do we suppose he ever will be now, were of the most contemptible character. It is supposed by some of the friends of the parties that this letter was written by one of the inmates of the hotel, but as yet the truth of the matter has not been fully ascertained, yet both the gentlemen feel confident that they will be able to unearth the busy-body who was the sole cause of any little unpleasantness that may have momentarily existed between the parties.

We are now happy to state that all the difficulty, slight as indeed it was, between the gentlemen, has been most happily adjusted, and that they now bear toward each other the kindliest feelings.

Persons who give rise to such rumors as cast a reflection on the characters of two such well known gentlemen as those referred to, cannot be too summarily disposed of; yet we suppose that as long as the world exists we will find scores of busy bodys and scandal-mongers who are never so well pleased as when endeavoring to ruin or blacken the character of their best friends and neighbors. So ends the "East Liberty Sensation," which, without a beginning or an end, never had any tangible existence.

COLLISION ON THE PANHANDLE.

Runaway Cars—Two Trains Meet on The Same Track—The Result.

A collision occurred on the Panhandle Railroad, near Dinsmore, Wednesday night. The express train, was due in the city at 12:13. A freight train from the depot here started and near Dinsmore, run on a siding to wait until the express had passed. In doing this several construction cars loaded with brick had to be moved forward on the siding. In doing this some disarrangement of the brakes occurred and the cars being on a down grade, ran off the siding to the main track and on to the bridge, some distance away. They attained considerable speed, and although the locomotive was sent after them, kept the lead. Just as they entered the bridge—a small covered structure, the express came in at the other side, there was a meeting in the center and a smashup. The locomotive of the express train, with the express and baggage cars and two passenger coaches were demolished. The construction cars shared a similar fate, the bricks being thrown in all directions. The bridge was completely wrecked, the timbers being broken to splinters, but the cars were driven so tightly together that they formed a span across the creek—an impromptu bridge. The passenger coaches contained about seventy persons, who somehow escaped. Some of them were slightly bruised, but this was all the damage. How they escaped seems a miracle. They reached the city yesterday morning, a special train having been sent out for them. No employes of the train were hurt and the only loss was in the rolling stock of the company.

Penitentiary Personals.

JOHN ADDINGTON, sentenced to undergo an imprisonment of twenty-four years for homicide, at Portersville, Butler county, is happy and contented. He is making cigars and has put in three years of his term. He has conducted himself admirably, being docile, good natured and industrious. Under the new law he will gain his liberty in fourteen years, unless sooner pardoned.

DR. SMITH, of Lawrenceville, who was sentenced for six years for passing counterfeit money, is making shoes. He looks delicate, but is happy and contented and enjoys good health.

TEDDY MCCARTHY is in the shoemaking department and works well. He is very industrious and conducts himself in good manner.

SINCLAIR, the burglar, is dangerously ill, confined to the hospital, from diseases of the kidneys. He will never come out alive from there.

THOMAS CAROON, of Temperanceville, who shot and killed his son-in-law, is engaged at weaving. He is much depressed in spirit, but conducts himself in an unexceptionable manner.

JACK NELSON is working with saw and plane. He is a good mechanic, and is fat and hearty.

LEONARD HARTMAN is at the loom weaving. He gives no trouble and is measurably well contented.

TOM WHITAKER is running a loom in the weaving shop. He is cheerful and happy, and grows fat upon his confinement.

KAUFFMAN, the Penn street barber who shot a boy who was looking in his window, and who was convicted of murder in the second degree and sentenced to twelve years' imprisonment, is at shoe making. He is unhappy and discontented and yearns for liberty.

SNIBBS ARNOLD is in the weaving department. He makes a clever apprentice and is no trouble whatever to the warden. He philosophically accepts the situation and is contented and happy.

SHIRADOFF, convicted of rape some four years ago, and sentenced to fifteen years imprisonment, is a shoemaker and a good one. He is cheerful.

THERE are but eight women in the Penitentiary. They are engaged in sewing, supplying the male prisoners with clothing.

THERE are only one hundred and thirty-one prisoners in the Penitentiary, a much less number than has for many years occupied that corrective institution.

On His Muscle.

From an information made at the Mayor's office yesterday morning it appears that Charley Gallaher, proprietor of the "Big Sun Flower" saloon, who was formerly a professional prize fighter, has again entered the list of contestants for glory. It is alleged by Jennie DeWalt that Charley and her had a "set to," in which she came out second best. The facts appear to be as follows: Jennie went into Charlie's saloon and was requested to leave, whereupon she became boisterous and refused to go. Charlie showed her out of the house and unfortunately for Jennie a policeman was passing the place at the time and took her in charge. She was taken to the lock-up where she remained over night and yesterday morning was required to pay a fine of five dollars and costs. While smarting under the punishment imposed upon her she resolved to be revenged and made the information as above stated. Charlie was held for a hearing.

Serious Accident.

John Hohizer and William Mitsch, quarrymen employed in Knox's stone quarry at Woods Run, were seriously injured on Wednesday evening. They were blasting rock, and having prepared a blast lighted the fuse, which, from some cause, did not burn. After waiting some minutes on it they both went to see the cause, and while Hohizer was stooping over it the charge exploded, seriously injuring them both. One of Hohizer's eyes was blown out and the sight of the other destroyed. He also received other injuries, which renders his recovery doubtful. Mitsch had one leg fractured in three places and was otherwise injured.

THE COURTS.

Quarter Sessions—Judge Stowe.

THURSDAY, June 30.—Court opened at ten o'clock, A. M., Judge Stowe on the bench.

C. R. Davidson, indicted for larceny, was placed on trial. W. H. Stroop the prosecutor, who is proprietor of a billiard saloon, alleges that on the 9th of April last the defendant was in his employ and at eleven o'clock of that evening he discharged him and that on the following day defendant took $11 from his money drawer and charged himself with it on the book.

The charge of the court to the jury indicated that in the opinion of the court the evidence under the law did not make out a case of larceny. Verdict of not guilty.

The jury returned a verdict of "not guilty."

In the case of Daniel Kerr and Carrie Jones, who were indicted jointly with John Nicholson for the murder of Patrick Collins, the District Attorney entered a noll pros and the defendants were discharged.

Commonwealth vs. V. Denhard, indicted for selling liquor on Sunday, was next taken up. The jury returned a verdict of guilty.

Commonwonwealth vs. Horace Byers, indicted for larceny, E. F. Maynard, prosecutor, was the next case taken up. The accused was charged with stealing an Opera Pungeant, valued at $25, and a second count for receiving stolen goods. The jury returned a verdict of guilty on the second count, and recommended the defendant to the mercy of the Court. The Court sentenced the prisoner to the county jail for twenty days.

Commonwealth vs. Ann McLaughlin, indicted for assault and battery, Mrs. Roe prosecutrix. Verdict of not guilty and each party to pay one-half the costs.

Charles Carter, who plead guilty to a charge of larceny, was sentenced to the House of Refuge.

Michael Dierken who plead guilty to a charge of larceny, was called up for sentence. The judge remarked that if the boy had a mother he would send him to her, but as he had not he did not know what to do with him owing to his extreme youth. The boy was remanded to jail.

The next case taken up was that of the Commonwealth vs. Edward Philbin, indicted for assault and battery, jointly with Patrick Duffy. Thomas Corine, the prosecutor, alleges that on the morning of the 17th he was going to his work at the Clinton Iron works and he met the accused standing on the board walk, Duffy knocked him down and Philbin struck him after he was down. Duffy has not been arrested and Philbin was put on trial alone. Jury out.

THE OIL FIRE.

The Flames Subsided—No Correct Estimates of the Losses—The Insurance.

The flames of the great oil fire have at last subsided, and the losers are now in a condition to sum up their losses. As yet no correct estimate can be given, the sufferers not having completed their schedules. The aggregate, however, from all indications, will not fall much short of a half a million. The following is a list of the insurance companies and the amounts which they respectively lose, so far as heard from:

Citizens.—Pittsburgh, $7,050; Independent, of Boston, $2,750; Enterprise, of Cincinnati, $2,750; Norwich, Conn., $6,050; Commerce, Albany, $2,500; Buffalo City, $6,000; Western, Buffalo, $7,000; Peoples, Worcester, $6,150; United States, Baltimore, $6,010; Narragansett, Providence, $6,750; Buffalo F. & M., $6,250; Ætna, Hartford, $3,100; Albany City, $3,100; Ætna, N. Y., $3,100; Yonkers, $2,500; Allegheny, $2,500. There is a total insurance of about $73,000, with a loss of about $30,000.

Eclipse.—Ætna, of Hartford: on refinery, $10,000; dwelling and barn, $6,500; Albany City, $9,000; Ætna, N. Y., $7,000; Lancaster City, $4,500; Norwich, $4,500; Franklin, $3,000; Artisans, $2,500; Narragansett, $2,500; Buffalo F. & M., $2,500; Western, Buffalo, $2,500; Peoples, Worcester, $2,500; United States, Baltimore, $2,500; Buffalo City, $2,000. Total, $60,500.

National.—Ætna, Hartford, $5,000; Albany City, $3,000; Ætna, New York, $1,500; total, $9,500.

Some eight of our home companies have lost nearly $60,000, ranging from $5,000 to $2,000 each, principally upon the bridge. They are Allegheny, $1,200; Peoples, $1,000; Pittsburgh, $8,000; Eureka, $7,000; Boatman, $7,000; Western, $5,000; Cash, $5,000; M. A M., $5,000; total, $59,000.

Webster Street Colored School, Allegheny.

The closing excercises for the term, were held on Thursday afternoon in the Webster street school building. The excercises consisted of reading lessons from the Fifth Reader and of original and selected pieces spoken or read alternately with vocal music. We were gratified with the tokens of application on the part of the pupils and of persistant and laborous efforts on the part of the teachers. These efforts would have been crowned with better results if the schedule of grades in the schools were extended somewhat. The Principal, Professor Neale, besides being thoroughly qualified, is ardently devoted to his schools, and labors with untiring zeal for their advancement. At the close of the exercises the Principal was taken quite by surprise by a most agreeable invasion of his platform and presence by two deputations of the scholars. Each with a pair of elegant fancy flower-vases, a very large and smaller pair, the young Misses of the presentors, addressed Mr. Neale with expressions of a grateful sense of his faithful efforts for their mental culture. Mr. Neale's sensibilities were scarcely equal to the draft upon them. He however succeeded, not without parenthetical vocal and visual effusions, in finding words for a very graceful acknowledgment of the unexpected testimonials. Judge Parke of the Fifth ward and Mr. Trimble of the Sixth ward School Boards were present, also Mr. Benj. Pulpress (colored), a citizen of the Third ward, and our own reporter. These gentlemen were called on for brief addresses and under the pressure of importunities our reporter essayed a short speech. He was followed by Mr. Trimble in a few very appropriate remarks, the best part of which was his testimony to the fine condition of the school, his interest in them, and his pledge to visit them more frequently than heretofore.

Mr. Pulpress, a representative colored man, always interested for his race, ever ready to aid in all measures for its advancement and elevation, made the closing speech, which seemed to us to be well conceived, well expressed and the best speech of the evening. It was a subject of regret that more of the parents of the pupils and other citizens were not present to enjoy the very interesting and pleasant occasion.

Midnight Fire—Stable Burned at Oakland.

Last night a few minutes before twelve o'clock, an alarm of fire was struck from Box 52, Oakland Car Stables. The engines started out, but did not go all the way, the distance being too great. The alarm was caused by the burning of a stable on the walk below the car station. No cause for its origin could be ascertained. The name of the owner was not known. The structure was burned to the ground, but a horse and the harness were saved. The loss was about three hundred dollars.

SUNDAY SCHOOL CONVENTION.

Interesting Topics Discussed—A Pleasant Session.

The Young Men's Christian Association of Mercer issued a call for a Sunday School Convention, which met at that place on Tuesday evening, 28th instant, and was opened with a sermon by Rev. Mr. Day.

WEDNESDAY MORNING.

Convention met at nine o'clock, and spent thirty minutes in devotional exercises.

Dr. Ross, of Greenville, was elected President, and R. M. J. Zahneisser, of Mercer, Secretary.

The first topic: "Who shall Superintend?" was opened by Rev. Mr. Finley, of Mercer, followed by several members. Among other suggestions we note the following: The Superintendent should not be a long-faced man, who never smiles; who would change all the children into men and women. He should not be a fussy man. He should be a man who loves children and smiles upon them; one whom they would select, who has organizing ability and can animate others; who goes quietly to his work, and holds on through storm as well as sunshine.

The second topic: "How shall we obtain competent Teachers?" brought out some earnest appeals for teachers' meetings to be held weekly; also, the same method we have in public schools, viz: Training classes and Normal schools.

The third topic: "Shall we have uniform lessons?" opened by Phillip Clover, Esq. The speakers all advocated the affirmative.

Adjourned for dinner.

AFTERNOON SESSION.

The fourth topic: "How shall we grade our Schools?" was opened by Dr. Phillips. The only difference of opinion was with regard to the number of grades. The plan of three grades was generally advocated.

Fifth exercise: A teacher's class conducted by Rev. Mr. Day, showing how to draw from the class. First the theme or central thought of the lesson and then those truths which are subordinate.

Sixth topic: "How shall we secure greater interest in our Schools?" Opened by Rev. O'Neil, of Granville. Important points were brought out in the discussion—First, Commence at the time; Second, Get all, both old and young, into the School; Third, Let the conversion of the scholar be the one great object; Fourth, Be careful about your selection of books. Strong grounds were taken against Sunday School novels. Fifth, Don't call upon "Tom," "Dick" and "Harry" to make speeches.

Seventh exercise: Infant class lesson by J. D. Carlisle, Esq., of Pittsburgh, illustrating the method which he uses so successfully in his own class.

Eighth exercise: Sacred Geography, by Rev. S. C. Faris, of Pittsburgh.

Recess till 7½ o'clock.

Ninth. Report of delegate to State Convention—Mr. Ecles.

Tenth topic: "Shall we introduce the temperence pledge into the Sabbath School?" Opened by Rev. Wm. M. Robinson, of Mercer. The discussion of this topic was perhaps the most interesting part of the meeting.

After a half hour of free conversation for mutual congratulation and encouragement, the Convention adjourned to meet in Greenville at the call of the Executive Committee.

Altogether the Convention was the most pleasant and interesting County Convention we have attended this season.

Fire Crackers.

It would be a shame to stop the boys and girls from firing off Chinese crackers in all directions, and flinging fire works around generally, merely because the practice is intensely disagreeable to most people, and horses will run away on account of it. Nor does it matter that hundreds of thousands dollars worth of property are annually destroyed by the fires which this practice gives rise to. It would be a shame to enforce any law which would deprive the dear children of any such innocent pastime, and the officers of the law hereabouts seem to think so, for all over the city, wherever we go, we are startled by the loud reports of exploding gunpowder, while at short intervals throughout the day we are greeted with ear-piercing salutes fired from the neighborhood of Sixth and Smithfield. A friend tells us that when playing croquet in a side yard with a party of ladies recently, one of the newly invented giant torpedoes was flung over the wall from the street, and bursting on the lawn created panic among the ladies. This variation of the amusement although intruding on the privacy of citizens is overlooked, because none but an ogre would deny the dear innocents that scanty pleasure, even if by so doing eyes and ears and property might be saved. [The above is intended to be looked upon as irony.]

Personals.

HIS HONOR JUDGE KIRKPATRICK was elected an honorary member of the Allegheny Base Ball Club, last evening.

MR. A. H. SILVEY, of the Christian Advocate office, is the latest recruit to Hymen's ranks from among our friends. The interesting ceremony took place last evening in the First Methodist church in this city, the bride being Miss Lide M. Hammett anp of Wilkinsburgh's fairest belles. The happy couple immediately started for Niagara on a wedding tour. Peace be theirs, and joy.

The Right Thing—The Right Place.

Mr. Editors:—I was led by your favorable notice of J. F. Beilstine, and by the testimony of a friend who has dealt with him for more than a year, to try for myself the quality of the various kinds of meat for which he is celebrated. My experience is good proof that Beilstine either at his stand 78 Pittsburgh or 39 Allegheny Market, is, as you have said, a sure place to get good, and only good beef, mutton, or veal, cut and served exactly as they should be. Try him and be convinced.

FASHION ITEMS.

THE high Swiss hat has become so common, that it produces a wearisome uniformity in the dress of our ladies.

CARRIAGE and visiting boots are seen in colors to harmonize with the toilet, and are usually of satin, elaborately embroidered.

FOR the croquet lawn, the Marie Antoinette slippers, with a moderately thick sole, and decorated with an immense bow and steel buckle, will be in vogue.

FOR young girls and children there is no prettier style for arranging the hair—if it be long and abundant—than to let it fall au naturel on the shoulders—crepe, of course.

BLACK KID BOOTS, stitched with white and laced on the inside, are more popular than colored boots this season, for the street. Buttoned boots, except for children, are no longer en regle.

THE "Frou-Frou" slippers is another elegant trifle, and, as its name implies, new this season. A frill of leather or fluting of satin around the instep is substituted for the ordinary bow, while a buckle fastens the two sides together.

THE latest novelty that has made its appearance for the summer months in ladies' toilettes are two new hats, called "La Belle" and "La Reine." French cognomens, given to two decidedly English looking hats. There is a striking similarity, and yet they vary just enough to give to each a name of its own.

THE short dresses now worn render it impossible for a lady to wear an ill-fitting boot, and go forth with any hope that the patent fact can be concealed from the eye of the most ordinary observer. The foot is now as conspicuous and as easily to be seen as the hand, and the importance of being well shod is as great as being well gloved.

THE Harney jacket is something new this summer for boys between ten and thirteen. This is a plain, short sack, with a breast and two side pockets, with broad lids, and buttons all the way down the front, short rolling collar. This comes either with or without a vest. The material for this, and dress suits for boys of larger growth, is fine broadcloth of two colors—dark blue and a snuff brown.

BOYS who wear pants reaching only to the knee, adopt for common use a plain substantial goat skin shoe, either laced or buttoned, according to taste. For dressy occasions a finer kid is employed. For boys in long pants, there is nothing better than the union button shoe, similar to those worn by men or the plain laced shoe. For warm summer days an evening dress, a low patent leather one, tied over the instep with a black ribbon, is all the fashion provides in this line.

GREAT latitude is allowed in the arrangement of the hair. Braids, curls, puffs and "frizzes," all claim an equal number of devotees, either being stylish as long as the general shape of the coiffure is one which extends from within an inch or two of the forehead to low down in the neck. Blondes naturally effect curls and soft "fluffy" puffs, with their hair frizzled furiously over the eyes in a dishevelled, Bacchante style, which they evidently consider dangerously alluring; while brunettes, especially those with classic features, arrange their hair in smooth, longitudinal rolls, alternating with heavy braids, and perhaps, a gentle wave in front to redeem the hair from its ordinary limpness.
